Ike Says Critics of Defense Reorganization Farfetched

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Eisenhower today accused congressional critics of his defense reorganization plan of talking nonsense and raising farfetched objections.

Urging swift approval of the controversial plan by Congress, Eisenhower said "peace, national safety—survival itself—demand of America the utmost strength in its every respect—spiritual, intellectual and scientific, as well as economic and military."

Formally opening the finish fight he has pledged to make for the reorganization program, Eisenhower appealed for support to two audiences.

His speech was prepared for a luncheon meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors and the International Press Institute. It also was broadcast coast to coast on television and radio.

Eisenhower spoke out in the face of a sharp challenge to his proposal from one of the most influential lawmakers at the Capitol—Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services Committee. Within hours after the President sent his proposal formally to the Congress yesterday, Vinson cut loose in a House speech in which he called it a move toward setting up a "Prussian-type supreme high command."

Vinson also moved to give uniformed critics of the reorganization plan a public forum for their objections. He announced that hearings on the plan, which his committee will start Monday, will be open-door affairs.

Some other members of Congress besides Vinson have been sharply critical of the reorganization plan.

Taking note of Vinson criticism without mentioning him by name, Eisenhower said foes of the plan will contend it seeks to set up "a monstrous general staff—usually called 'Prussian' and that such a staff in the critics view would set up "to dominate our armed forces and in due course will threaten our liberty."

"That is nonsense," Eisenhower said. Eisenhower also hit at those who contend the plan, which would concentrate much new authority in the secretary of defense, would make that official "a 'czar' who will overwhelm our liberty." He denied this.

It will likely be said, in addition, that these proposals will violate the responsibilities of Congress, especially its power over the purse, Eisenhower said in reference to his plan for giving the secretary of defense greater flexibility in handling military money.

"As I have said, that is equally far fetched," Eisenhower said.

"The Congress will keep, in every respect, its full constitutional authority over the appropriation of funds. But greater flexibility in defense spending will result in greater efficiency, more responsiveness to changing military requirements, and more economical management of major defense programs."

Three Men Rescued From Missouri River

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Three Parkville, Mo., men were rescued from the Missouri river yesterday after an outboard motor boat capsized near the entrance of the Kaw river.

Rescued by an Army engineers launch were Russell Hughes, 31, his nephew, Delbert Lee Hughes, 19, and Jim Hamer, 40.

The boat hit a submerged log. The Hughes men clung to the overturned boat while Hamer drifted downriver on an inner tube.

Sharing Secrets A 'Must'

So Says Secretary Of State Dulles To Joint Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles told Congress today the United States must share atomic weapons secrets with its allies else the Soviet Union will dominate them with nuclear superiority.

In testimony prepared for a Senate-House Atomic Energy subcommittee, Dulles backed an administration bill to permit this country to share know-how, weapons materials and some parts with the friendly nations.

The subcommittee asked him specifically for an official view on how such sharing would affect efforts to bring about international arms limitation.

Dulles replied the legislation is indispensable for that purpose. In the first place, he said, the free nations which do not now have atomic weapons—that is, all but the United States and Great Britain—are understandably not eager to have agreements perpetuating for all time their present nuclear weapons inferiority.

"The situation is altered," Dulles continued, "if the United States can and will deploy nuclear weapons for common defensive use in case of armed aggression, and share knowledge which will make our allies partners in this endeavor. Failure to do this will create resistance, perhaps insuperable resistance, to the international control needed to prevent, over coming years, the promiscuous spreading, and possible irresponsible use, of nuclear weapons."

Dulles said also that the Soviets are making extreme efforts to bring about a limitation of the armaments of free world nations to conventional weapons, without, of course, giving up their own nuclear weapons. If the Soviets succeed, Dulles said, they will have much less incentive to seek a balanced limitation of armament.

So, Dulles concluded, not to provide for greater sharing of nuclear capabilities with U. S. allies "would in effect make the United States a partner with the Soviet Union in imposing on our NATO allies such an incapacity to use nuclear tactical weapons that Soviet dominance over Western Europe would be largely achieved and little incentive would be left for the Soviet Union to limit its own armament."

Opens World International Exposition

Belgian King Says Aim Is To Create Peace Atmosphere

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—King Baudouin opened the postwar world's biggest international exposition today and declared: "The aim of this world's fair is to create an atmosphere of understanding and peace."

It was a chill, gray day and a whistling wind made it overcast weather, but failed to hold down the crowds.

Hundreds poured into the American and Soviet pavilions. During the first hours, the crowds appeared to be slightly larger at the beautiful circular American show. But the throngs at the Soviet hall were not much smaller.

Chief attraction of the Soviets appeared to be models of their Sputniks. The main interest at the U.S. exhibition was a bevy of beautiful girls—some in brief bathing suits. Nobody whistled at the Sputniks.

The Soviets put out a large guest book and invited visitors to make comments.

"This is a large, lovely pavilion," wrote one. "Keep up the good work."

"It is all propaganda," said another.

Central Missourians Like Sedalia's 'Buys'

Central Missourians are finding out that Sedalia is the place to buy. Before the "You Auto Buy Now" campaign began last Friday, many buyers sought out bargains in larger cities, under the impression that Sedalia, a medium-size town, could not offer the selection and discounts found out of town.

But since the campaign began drawing attention to special bargains offered in the automobile field, buyers naturally investigated the possibility of making savings in other retail merchandise. According to reports of several retailers, business has improved considerably since the campaign began. By buying in Sedalia, individuals not only make substantial savings, but get better service than they could by making an out-of-town purchase.

Many out-of-town buyers have visited Sedalia during the campaign, and have made purchases here. Two men, according to Mike O'Connor, chairman of the new car dealers' steering committee, made a 100-mile trip to another city to buy cars. They didn't like the deal they were offered, and returned to Sedalia to buy the cars. The nine new car dealers in Sedalia represent 17 different makes of US cars, along with various makes of foreign cars. The Routsong Motor Co. features the Borg-Ward, an economical West German make; the Cal Rodgers Pontiac Co. represents the Vauxhall, a British car; Mike O'Connor represents the Opel, a General Motors line produced in West Germany; and the Tippie Motor Co. represents Mercedes-Benz, another West German firm.

There are only four more days left to take advantage of Sedalia's biggest car sale. New car lots, and used car lots belonging to the nine dealers will remain open until 9 p.m. for the duration of the sale, which ends Monday. To give everyone a chance to take advantage of the discounts offered, the lots will be open from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday have been designated "Farmer's Days" to encourage out-of-town buyers to buy in Sedalia, and save the time and gasoline used to drive to another large city. In case the visitor gets a survey of industry will be made by mail; hotels and motels will be called on to provide certain information and other business firms and professional people will be contacted by telephone and the full cooperation of everybody is needed to assist the Chamber in this big task.

It was indicated by Dale Fearn, chief of the aviation section of Aviation Resources and Development, as well as other sources, that if Sedalia is not included in this area case it will be four or five years before consideration of Sedalia will come before the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Any interested citizen who would have occasion to use airline service is requested to call the Chamber of Commerce and let his use of airline service be known.

Indonesian Marines Land In Sumatra

To Begin Offensive Crushing Resistance Of Rebel Forces

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Marine commandos landed on Sumatra's west coast at dawn today behind a naval bombardment in the long heralded offensive to crush the rebel forces. The resistance was described as negligible.

"All our forces are moving forward," a military source said. He added that substantial reinforcements had been ordered in to support the two companies of steel-helmeted, green-clad marines.

(The rebel Padang radio said the defenders were fighting hard and the invaders have been repulsed. The radio went off the air in the middle of a communique.)

In command of the first wave of marines was U. S. trained Col. Ahmed Jani, graduate of the staff school at Leavenworth, Kan. He recently returned from an arms-buying mission in Communist Czechoslovakia, Poland and Yugoslavia.

The landing was preceded by a bombardment from Indonesia's tiny navy force—a destroyer, two corvettes and 10 to 16 auxiliary vessels.

The rebels are threatened by land forces from the east, the southeast and the northwest.

Premier Djuanda said six hours after the first landings in Sumatra that there was resistance but it was negligible. He was made the No. 1 target of the rebel regime proclaimed Feb. 15.

One objective of the offensive is to capture the revolutionary leaders. About a dozen important rebel administrative officers left Bukittinggi yesterday. But Premier Sjahrudin Prawiranegara and his insurgent Cabinet still were there at last reports.

It was uncertain whether the rebels would risk their first major battle with the Jakarta forces after falling back before their land drives. There seems to have been a determined effort to avoid shooting clashes which might prevent formulation of a political settlement later.

Measure Adds $18,500,000 To Highway Fund

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The emergency highway bill signed yesterday by President Eisenhower will mean an additional $18,500,000 in highway funds for Missouri in the fiscal year 1959.

The additional money means the acceleration of highway construction in the state after July 1. The signing was greeted with enthusiasm by state officials.

Gov. James T. Blair, who got the news at St. Louis, termed it "the most wonderful thing he's done since he became President."

"We'll start work in every county in Missouri as soon as possible," Blair said. "This is the greatest step toward stopping the recession that Ike and Congress could have taken."

Dean Wilson, assistant to Rex Whitton, chief engineer for the Missouri State Highway Department, said about 5,500,000 of the added funds will go for the interstate highway system and $11,000,000 to secondary roads.

"The state will put up six million dollars in matching funds to make the total which will be available to the state for roads at about $22,500,000," Wilson said.

Missouri already had been allocated $77,000,000 in federal funds for road building in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

At Armed Forces Day Banquet

Deputy Chief of Staff Of AF to Speak Here

Maj. Gen. Robert B. Landry, United States Air Force, will be the speaker at the second annual Armed Forces Day dinner meeting to be held in Sedalia on May 16. The affair is co-sponsored by the communities in the vicinity of the Whiteman Air Force Base.

Committees of the area are represented at Warrensburg, Marshall, Knob Noster, La Monte, Clinton, Windsor, Concordia, and Sedalia. Sedalia was chosen for the site due to the spacious Smith-Cotton cafeteria where at least 600 persons can be served.

Gen. Landry is assistant deputy chief of staff of Personnel, Headquarters USAF in the Pentagon, Washington, D.C. He is considered one of the top three men in the Air Force. He is no stranger to the Whiteman Air Force Base installation, having visited there some time ago with former President Harry S. Truman.

He has the distinction of having been the first Air Force aide to the White House and that was under President Truman. It was during this time that he actually became acquainted with the installation in Missouri when the delegations from Sedalia and Warrensburg visited the President to seek his assistance in having the Sedalia Army Air Field, as it was known then, reactivated. He had personal knowledge of these activities and became interested in them.

Gen. Landry is a native of New Orleans, La., where he was born Dec. 1, 1909. He attended the Tulane University for a year and was graduated from the U.S. Military Academy at West Point on June 10, 1932, commissioned a second lieutenant in the infantry.

After two years service with the infantry in the United States, he turned to aviation and entered flying training. He completed his training in March, 1935, and was transferred to the Air Corps. He was assigned as a flying instructor at Kelly Field, Tex., and later that year went to the Panama Canal Zone for a two-year tour of duty. He went to Hawaii in 1937 and served at Hickam Field and Fort Shafter in various capacities. During World War II he served preme Headquarters, Allied Expeditionary Forces. In January, 1946, he was made a member of the Joint Operations Review Board of the Army-Navy Staff College. In June of that year he was named as instructor in operations at the National War College. In August, 1947, he was named executive to the chief of staff of the Air Force and the following February was assigned as air aide to President Truman. On Feb. 16, 1953, he became deputy commander of the Second Air Force, Strategic Air Command, Barksdale AFB, Louisiana.

Joining the Continental Air Command on Feb. 1, 1955, Gen. Landry assumed command of the Fourth Air Force at Hamilton AFB, Calif.

On July 1, 1957, Gen. Landry became assistant deputy chief of staff, personnel. His decorations include the Legion of Merit, Distinguished Flying Cross with one Oak Leaf cluster, Air Medal with four Oak Leaf clusters, French Croix de Guerre, and Belgian Croix de Guerre with Palm. He holds the rating of command pilot.

Gen. Landry is a personal friend of United States Sen. Stuart Symington, who was Secretary of the Air Force during the years Gen. Landry was the White House aide. It was through Sen. Symington that Gen. Landry was secured to be the speaker for the annual area affair.

Last year's Armed Forces Day dinner meeting, held in Sedalia, was considered one of the largest attended in the country. The various community committees are working to make the 1958 affair bigger and better.

Tickets for the dinner can be obtained through the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce or through members of the committees in the above mentioned cities.

with the Eighth Air Force in Europe. Among his assignments were: chief of combat operations on March 9, 1942; commander of the 56th Fighter Group on Oct. 30, 1943; executive of the 93rd Combat Wing on Nov. 14, 1944; commander of the 493rd Bomb Group on Feb. 15, 1945. That June he was named assistant chief of staff for operations of the air staff, Su-

State Medical Group Decides On Neutrality

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Delegates to the Missouri State Medical Assn. convention have taken a stand pat attitude toward a federal-state program to provide medical care to indigent persons on public assistance rolls.

The position of watchful neutrality was taken yesterday after a spirited debate.

The doctors resolved not to accept pay for their services under the program.

Under terms of the federal plan, which is known as the "vendor program," the federal government provides matching funds for states which wish to take part. Some 33 states, not including Missouri, now use some form of the program.

It is expected legislation for the plan will be introduced at the next session of the Missouri Legislature.

Warm Weather To Remain In Mid-Continent

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

More summer-like weather was in prospect for much of the mid-continent today with the warmer air headed into most of the Eastern third of the country.

Wet weather was the outlook for many sections in the Western half of the country.

Skies cleared during the night in the mid and south Atlantic coastal areas after heavy downpours and gusty winds swept wide parts of the Southeast for two days. Although it was generally cool along the Atlantic coastal region during the night, fair and mild weather was expected during the day.

The mild weather belt extended from the Plains to the Appalachians and temperatures during the night ranged in the 60s through the Plains and upper Mississippi Valley.

Highest readings of the season were reported in most of the north central states and some Eastern cities. Top marks included 91 at Pierre and Huron, S.D. The 90 at Valentine, Neb., tied the city's high reading for the date and the 86 at Rapid City, S.D., was a record for the date.

Lana, Steve Have Thought for Cheryl

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. — "Lana and I have but one thought—what's best for Cheryl."

Steve Crane was speaking of his ex-wife Lana Turner and their 14-year-old daughter. The daughter has been held by juvenile authorities since her mother's boy friend was fatally stabbed April 4.

Cheryl said she plunged a kitchen knife into Johnny Stompanato's stomach when the onetime gambler's bodyguard threatened to disfigure her mother.

The slaying of Stompanato was ruled justifiable homicide by a coroner's jury. But Cheryl faces a closed hearing April 24 on whether she will be returned to her actress mother or placed in the custody of her father, in a foster home or the California Youth Authority.

"Lana and I met yesterday and discussed Cheryl," said Crane, second of the actress' four husbands. "We have no disagreement—we both want what is best for our daughter."

No decision has been made, he said, as to whom will seek custody.

Kansas City Star Sued for $32,000

KANSAS CITY — The operators of two theaters have sued the Kansas City Star for $32,000, basing their claim on the Sherman Anti-Trust Act.

Dr. Nathan Zoglin and his wife, Mrs. Jennie Zoglin, contended the newspaper required them to purchase advertising in both the Star and Times when they desired only to advertise in the Star—the afternoon publication. They also charged they were required to purchase double column advertising when they wished to run one-column ads.

The suit covers a period from Jan. 6, 1948, to July 20, 1957. The Star abandoned its combination plan of advertising on the latter date after it had lost an appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court on an anti-trust conviction.

Tunisian President Gives France a Week To Accept Compromise

TUNIS — President Habib Bourguiba today gave France a week to get a government which will accept the compromise on the French-Tunisian dispute worked out by the U.S.-British good offices mission.

Otherwise, Bourguiba said, he will charge France again with aggression before the U.N. Security Council.

Speaking on his weekly broadcast to his people, the Tunisian President coupled his ultimatum to the French with lavish praise for U.S. policies. He urged all the free peoples of Africa to stand firm with the United States against communism.

Bourguiba first accused the French before the Council after the bombing Feb. 8 of a Tunisian border village which the French claimed harbored Algerian rebels.

Lions Learn
Of City-wide
Recreation

The Sedalia Lions Club heard the Rev. Edward Sims, chairman of the temporary city-wide recreation committee, speak on recreation at the noon day meeting, Wednesday. A motion picture was shown by George Ray, pertaining to a city-wide recreation program as presented by the Missouri Resources and Development Division.

Rev. Sims told of the proposed program for Sedalia and of the study now in the planning stages. He explained the benefits of such a program for both young and old.

He also pointed out the successful program now being held in Marshall and which has been in existence for the past number of years and which is headed by Bill Lyon.

The motion picture carried out a complete program showing the activities of such a planned and organized recreation program, for not just the youth of a community but for the adults as well. It gave programs for both outdoor activity in the summer and indoor programs for the winter.

Rose Bushes Grow Faster When Planted in Mid-March

By Mrs. Verna Palmer
Sedalia Rose Society

In talking about how to plant roses, the question some people ask is, Shall I plant in the fall or in the spring of the year? I have better luck planting in the early spring, about the middle of March. It's true, you will need to prepare the bed in the fall, or you will have to go out and dig the hole as soon as the frost gets out of the ground. The soil works better in the fall. But if the ground freezes immediately after planting the roots do not become established and if the weather stays warm the plant may start growing and get killed by frost.

The best location for roses should be a place where they will have a good drainage and a half a day of full sunshine, preferably morning sun.

They should not be planted near large trees, because the tree roots sap the ground and take all the moisture and food from the roses. One man said he fed the trees as well as the roses. That's the way we do; we water and fertilize all the fruit trees and shrubs near the roses.

When you receive the rose plants, the stems should be green and firm and no sprouts on them. Poor roots and extra long roots should be pruned. I always cut the end of each root about one-half inch. Most rose plants have the tops pruned when they come from the nursery.

When transplanting roses, cut the tops back from four to twelve inches. All cut surfaces should be painted with a tree wound compound to prevent drying out and stem borer damage. Shellac or black fibre cement is good if you do not have tree wound compound.

Before planting, set the rose plant in a bucket of water for a few hours. Dig a hole large enough to accommodate the root system without crowding. Build a cone of dirt in the center of the hole and place the plant on it and spread out the roots.

There is some controversy between Rosarians about where the bud union should be planted, (the big knob on the stem near the place where the roots start). Reports from all parts of the country indicate that roses do well whether the bud union is planted below, at, or above ground level. So you may try all three ways and see which plants do best.

Now cover the roots with soil and firm it down with your hands. Do not fill the hole full of soil but leave four or five inches open and pour in a bucket of water, then wait until the water soaks away before filling the remainder of the hole with soil. If the ground is dry its better to pour in a bucket or two of water and let it soak away before planting the bush. Now mound the soil up over the rose plant six or eight inches to keep it from drying out and protect from frost and sun. This will cause the plant to sprout. If the ground is dry, water two or three times a week. I remove the soil after the weather becomes settled and warmer, about the middle of April.

Plant good roses if you want good plants. I have found it does not pay to plant cheap roses. Named roses cost more than unnamed roses, you pay for the name. I want to know the names of my roses so I buy named roses. You can get good roses from a reliable nursery cheaper if you do not care about the names.

Rotted barnyard manure is good fertilizer. I have very good luck using commercial fertilizer. I dig in a big tablespoon of complete plant food around my bushes the first of April. Use it according to the size of the plant. Be sure the ground is wet when you use it, if dry soak the soil with the hose before using the fertilizer. You may fertilize again in May and June and the first of September if you want fall roses. Bone meal may be used in the late fall or in early March because the plants do not absorb it right away.

Hold Last Meeting Of The Club Year

The meeting closed with the devotional by Mrs. Ira Williams. This was the last meeting of the club year.

US Must Battle Red Price Cutting

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States may have to subsidize exporters in order to compete with Soviet prestige price-cutting abroad, says Henry Cabot Lodge.

Lodge, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, spoke last night before 1,400 persons at the annual dinner of the Brand Names Foundation.

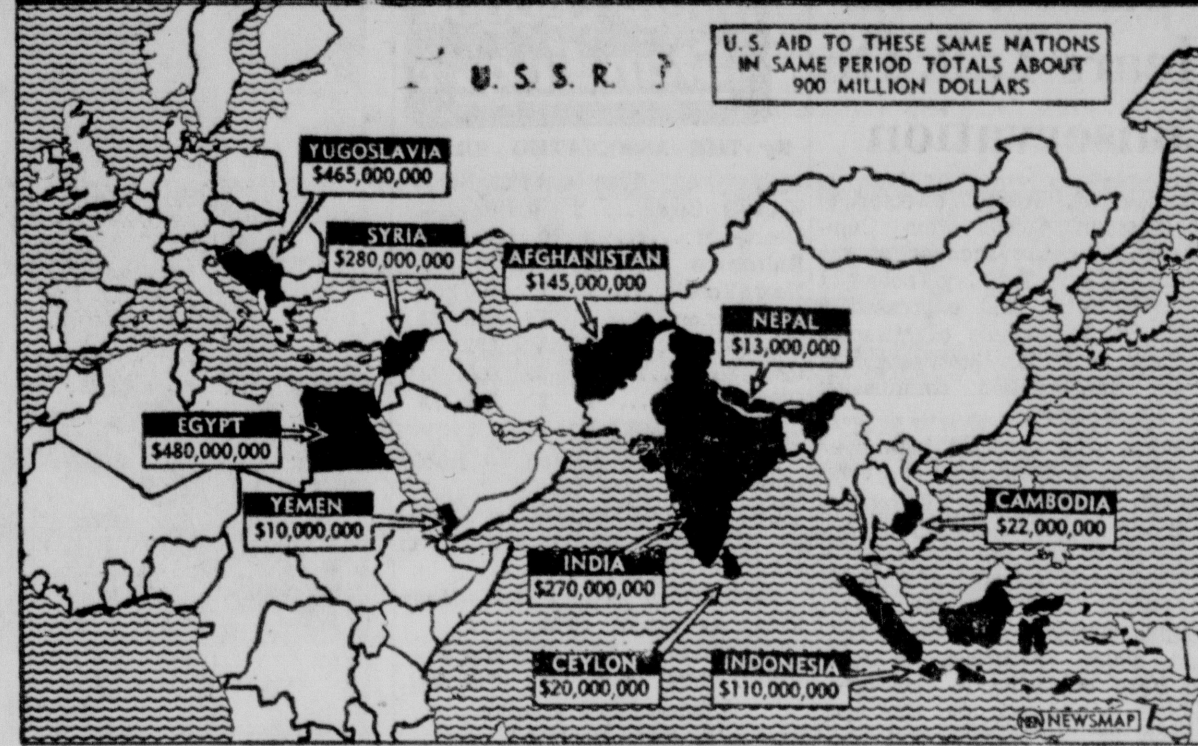

In a few years, Lodge said, "we should expect to see one or another Soviet product underselling American products in world markets for the sake of Soviet prestige. A total state can easily do such things because it can actually put the state into the export business."

Lodge continued: "To meet such tactics, the individual who is in the export business in a free country must compete as an individual with the total resources of the Soviet state. This may prove to be a competition which the individual businessman who pays good wages to free labor cannot win."

"If this sort of Soviet competition gets going, we may have to face the question of whether or not to support American products by the resources of our government."

RUSSIAN FOREIGN AID IN PAST THREE YEARS TOTALS 1.8 BILLION DOLLARS

THE SOVIET ECONOMIC WAR—President Eisenhower, in his State of the Union speech and again in his budget message, warned that Russia has launched a "massive economic offensive." Newspaper, above, shows that the President wasn't—and the Russians aren't—fooling Moscow has concentrated its loans and other aid to the key countries shown, surpassing U.S. aid twice over. Important is the fact that Russia focuses its financial fire, not only on countries already in the Red camp, like Yugoslavia, but on shakily neutral ones like Egypt, India and Afghanistan in the hope of achieving subversion and eventual political domination. The weapons the Soviets use in this dangerous economic war are loans—at lower interest rates and with longer payment periods than the U.S. offers.

Six big reasons why FORD is the big wagon favorite

1. Ford wagons outcomfort them all! To begin with, Ford wagons for 1958 are the only wagons in the low-price field that give you the comfort of foam-rubber cushioned front seats in all models. Ford wagons give you a 15% softer ride. And Ford's new Magic-Circle steering is up to 12% easier—makes toughest parking and maneuvering problems a breeze.

2. Ford wagons set the style! The brilliant new 4-passenger Thunderbird—1958's on-the-road dream car—inspired the style of each and every one of Ford's six new wagons. That means you get trim, sculptured lines... front-end and rear-end styling that will stay in style for years to come.

3. Ford wagons are built to stay built! Of all the wagons in Ford's field, only Ford offers so many braces in the roof (Ford has 6, while others have but 4). And only Ford has 18 rubber body mounts and extra insulation against weather and noise. Ford wagons are standouts for stand-up!

4. You can have the Thunderbird's own V-8 60! Enjoy Thunderbird GO in your choice of new V-8's

... up to 300-horsepower strong. With Precision Fuel Induction, these engines bring you a new brand of responsive power... particularly in normal driving ranges.

5. You can save up to 15% on gas! Team one of Ford's all-new V-8 engines with Cruise-O-Matic Drive (the newest, thriftiest, most versatile automatic going) and you can save up to 15% on gas! Or choose Ford's Mileage Maker Six... the most advanced, gas-savingest Six in its field!

6. It's the lowest-priced wagon of the low-price 3* In the low-price three, you can't find a lower-priced 2-door wagon! In fact, all six Ford wagons are priced lower than comparable competitive models. Just one more of the many reasons why Ford sells nearly half again as many station wagons as anyone!

*Based on comparison of means/weighted suggested retail delivered prices

9-passenger Country Sedan is just one of Ford's six style-setters for 1958. You can pay more but you can't find a better wagon buy.

More Boys Playing

Little League Program Activity Begins Friday

One of Sedalia's finest youth programs — The Little Leagues — will commence activity at the Little League Stadium with the season's first tryouts Friday evening and Saturday afternoon.

On June 2 the opening game of the 1958 campaign—the eighth for the local Little League program—will be played. The season will wind up on August 1 and play-offs will commence on August 4 to decide the championship.

Officials estimate that 600 or more boys between the ages of eight and 12 will play in the organization this year. This represents an increase of nearly 200 over the 1957 season.

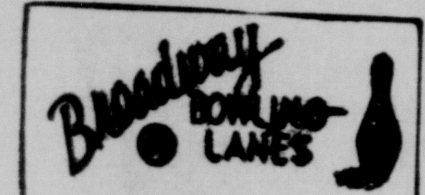

The Little League and the Babe Ruth League have been invaluable assets to Sedalia's recreation program for several years, but with the expanding set-up for 1958 and more participants than ever before, the benefits for the community should be greater than ever.

Although team managers stress the play-to-win spirit, sportsmanship receives the chief emphasis and the conduct of all connected with the Little League program is directed towards this goal by a brief, but meaningful code of ethics.

As pointed out by Ralph Hamlin, president of the Sedalia Little League, the program provides a splendid summer time interest for these young players. The ways of a sportsman which the boys learn is a virtue that remains through life; the game itself improves physical fitness and establishes a lasting enthusiasm for America's national pastime. Lastly, the Little League program helps youth in its relations with others and builds admirable bonds on friendship.

Tryouts for eight and nine-year-olds will be held at the Little League Stadium at 4:30 p.m. Friday. On Saturday at 1:30 p.m. tryouts for 10, 11 and 12-year-olds will be held. All equipment, except gloves, is furnished by the Little League. In the event of rain, tryouts will be rescheduled for April 25 and 26.

To assure the physical fitness of every boy playing in the program, medical examinations will be given at the Sedalia Armory beginning at 9 a.m. Saturday morning. It is mandatory that

Optimist Club Hears Talk On Conservation

William E. Towell, director of the Missouri Conservation Commission, was the speaker at the Optimist Club Tuesday noon at Bothwell Hotel, and expressed a desire for the people of Missouri to have a better understanding of the conservation commission and its purpose.

Towell, who recently took over the job as director, said the commission is making a real effort to create a better feeling toward it, for after all, the conservation commission is a board created by the people to govern the game, fish and forestry resources of Missouri. These resources, he said, had been entrusted to this commission to manage for the best interest of the people and they were trying to do a good job.

The commission has made great stride in the past 20 years, he said, and through the experiments made during those years has found that the methods have been sound.

A good many changes are now being made that will give more liberty for the sportsman to enjoy himself. The regulations have been simplified and all conservation agents are now in uniform, as law enforcement officers should be. No longer will the sportsman feel as though someone in civilian clothes is sneaking up on them trying to catch them.

There is now the hunter safety obligation. There is an effort to provide more public facilities for hunting and fishing such as putting in more small lakes and survey the state to see that the streams where there is suitable fishing are easier to get to.

The basic policy of the commission includes, first, the perpetuation of species to see that Missouri always has what it has now; second, managing to produce the maximum benefit, a surplus for sportsmen, and third to divide as well as they can so that no group takes more for themselves than all may have a fair and equal chance to enjoy the resources.

All wild life, the speaker said, is the product of environment, land with enough food, light and water to repopulate themselves and have a surplus harvest. The harvest, nature will take care of through disease, the lack of room and various other ways and the surplus will be lost before another breeding season, so the sportsman may as well take their share. You cannot stockpile game, he explained because nature will take it during the winter. It is up to the commission, then, to determine what is available for the sportsman.

Most people believe that restocking can be done through fish, quail and turkey hatcheries, but this is not satisfactory. The restocking is done through the natural environment and natural methods. Hatcheries are justified only to introduce those things that are native of the state. They are now experimenting on pheasants and a new type of quail by artificial means. These will then be put in the Missouri woods and watched to learn about their habits and if they adapt themselves to the environment of this state.

The Conservation Commission has a five million dollar a year budget and the commission is anxious that the people give them ideas on what they want.

The speaker was introduced by Ed Mitchell, program chairman. The meeting was presided over by Claude L. Boul, with invocation by the Rev. James Schrader. Charles Hanna led the group singing with Miss Lillian Fox as accompanist.

Joe Forsee, chairman of the Bicycle Safety Program sponsored each year by the Optimist Club, announced that there was a change being made in the program this year which he felt would create more interest. It is a skill riding contest. The date set for the program is Saturday, April 26, from 2 to 4 p.m. at Liberty Park.

Gerald Cecil, chairman of the district convention plans for the Sedalia Club, announced that the convention will be three days, May 1st, 2nd and 3rd in Kansas City.

Guests introduced were Murlan Tharp, John Snodgrass and David Eisenstein.

Cerv Earns New Respect Of Youngsters

Fleet-footed youngsters on the Kansas City Athletics today looked with new respect on a ruddy-faced veteran 200-pound outfielder who doesn't fit the svelte new look their club is modeling this year.

The big, taciturn outfielder is Bob Cerv, not so fast on his feet, weak on the throws that cut down base runners but whose bat has driven in seven runs in two games of the infant baseball season.

Big Bob, who at 32, is the oldest regular in the A's youthful starting lineup, smashed a 400-foot home run and two doubles yesterday driving in five runs as the Athletics clobbered the Cleveland Indians 9-4. He has a two-day output of seven RBIs, having clouted a two-run double off Herb Score as the A's shut out the Indians 5-0 opening day.

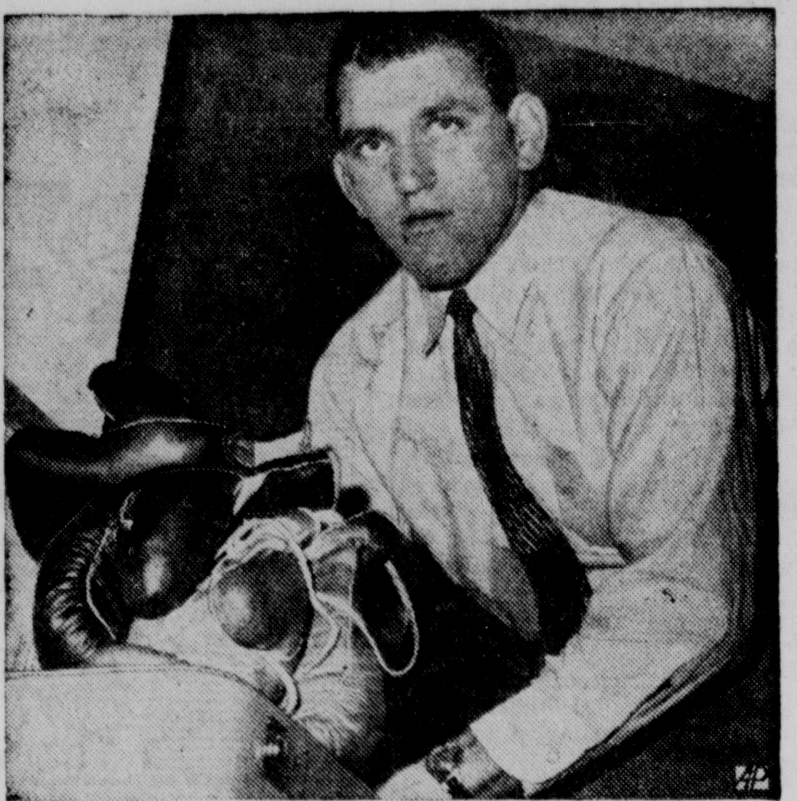

The A's have looked every inch the battling, running ball club Manager Harry Craft has promised for 1958. But even Craft didn't expect the run-making Cerv and his teammates to explode against supposedly strong Cleveland pitching.

The A's shipped ponderous Gus Zernial and lackadaisical Lou Kila to Detroit as part of a 13-player swap that brought Bill Tuttle, a strong armed left fielder to Kansas City. Tuttle has played sensationally alongside Woody Held, another swift outfielder who came from the Yanks along with Bob Martyn, still another scamping outer gardener.

"We will play a tighter defense this year with more daring base running," Craft said after spring training. "If we had a long ball batter to drive in more runs it could be very interesting."

If Cerv keeps up anything near his present pace he is just the man Craft is looking for. The big Nebraska, who started his pro career with the old Kansas City Blues of the American Assn. in 1950, was shuttled to and from the parent New York Yankees for the next three years before he stuck. He came to the A's last year but injuries and an expanded waist line kept him on the bench too often for him to unlimber his home run bat as expected. He hit .272 in 345 times at bat, with 11 homers and 44 runs batted in.

This season he is sporting a trimmer figure and battling to keep two determined youngsters —Martyn and Dave Melton—from taking over his spot in left field.

PACKING PROBLEM — Dan Hodge, Olympic wrestler, packs in New York after winning Golden Gloves heavyweight title. He may turn pro or aim for double in '60 Olympics.

Junior Bowlers Plan Appearance on TV

Ten Sedalia junior bowlers are scheduled to appear on the televised "Bowling At Broadway" show at 8 p.m. Friday. There will be five boys and five girls on the initial show.

The boys are Freddie Merry, Bill Ferguson, Bill Bunn Jr., Tommy Robb and Eddie Johnson. The girls are Gayline Jaeger, Marsha Brown, Toni Gieger, Leona Zurowets and Judy Copas. Zeldia Hardin, Joplin, American Junior Bowling Congress instructor for this area, will appear with the Sedalia juniors.

Two additional junior bowlers are slated to appear on the "Bowling With Molen" show from Kansas City at 5 p.m. Saturday. They are Charles Wadleigh and Karen McMullen.

A's Find Indian Pitching Staff To Their Liking

The Kansas City Athletics again found Cleveland Indians pitching to their liking and today are lodged in a tie for first place in the American League with Detroit.

Big, lumbering Bob Cerv drove in five runs on two doubles and a booming 420-foot home run to lead the A's in a 9-4 victory over the Indians.

Ralph Terry received credit for the victory although he was driven from the mound in the eighth. Tom Gorman finished without any trouble.

Terry and catcher Frank House were the only A's who failed to hit safely at least once.

Mike Baxes, Bill Tuttle, Hector Lopez, Vic Power and Joe DeMaestri each collected two hits. Cleveland used six pitchers with starter Ray Narleski suffering the defeat.

Manager Harry Craft commenting on the team's performance said: "It just so happens we've got a lot of fellows who want to play ball this year and as a result we look good. That idea was evident early in spring training and it certainly has carried over."

The St. Louis Cardinals were idle yesterday but spent 3 hours in a batting drill. The Cards, defeated 4-0 by the Chicago Cubs Tuesday, meet the Windy City National Leaguers again tonight at Busch Stadium.

Tiger Trade Gives Them Fast Getaway

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

The Detroit Tigers, long frustrated in American League pennant races by stumbling starts, had the makings of a souped-up getaway today — thanks to one trade they made and another that they didn't make.

It was Frank Bolling, the second baseman Cleveland wanted but didn't get, who wrapped up a 5-4 victory over the Chicago White Sox yesterday. With two out in the ninth, he hit a 3-2 pitch for a three-run homer.

A trade with Kansas City provided the payoff in Tuesday's 4-3 opening day victory at Chicago with Billy Martin, the big man in the big deal, getting the single that clinched it.

Kansas City held a share of first place with Detroit after wallopping Cleveland 9-4. Bob Cerv drove in five runs with two doubles and a homer.

Boston finally won one, defeating the New York Yankee's 3-1 on a two-run homer by Jackie Jensen and Dave Sisler's seventh-inning pitching in the only other AL game scheduled.

The Tigers hadn't won their first two since 1950 — and that was the year they finished second. Bolling, a 28-year-old Alabamian whose brother also is on the club, followed up his 2-for-4 day in the opener with 4-for-5 yesterday. He lined three consecutive singles off Dick Donovan before tagging the big right-hander for the home run.

The "powerless" White Sox had two home runs — Bubba Phillips' first and Sherm Lollars' second of the season — among 10 hits off six Tiger pitchers. Tom Morrell started, but George Spencer, No. 5, was the winner.

Cerv built his two-day RBI total to seven with his first homer, a two-run shot in the ninth off Dick Tomaneck, last of half a dozen Cleveland hurlers. Ray Narleski failed to finish the first, when the A's scored five. Ralph Terry struck out seven but needed relief in the ninth.

The Red Sox, who lost their first two, got rolling with Jensen's second homer in the third inning against Tom Sturdivant. Sisler, 6-2 lifetime against New York, then blanked the Yanks until Hank Bauer and Gil McDougald doubled in the fifth.

Pinch Hitters Have Rough Day Wednesday

NEW YORK (AP)—Pinch hitters had quite a futile time in yesterday's three American League games. All of fifteen pinch-swingers went to bat and none connected safely. Two of them received bases on balls. The other 13 were retired.

Tigers Drop Track Meet To Public Hi

In spite of nearly every Smith-Cotton track and field competitor bettering his own time for the season Wednesday the Tigers lost a triangular meet to Warrensburg Public Hi 72 1/2-53. Clinton came in third with 21 1/2 points. The meet was held at Warrensburg.

Public Hi won eight events to five for the Tigers. Sophomore Clell Funnell grabbed two of the Bengals' first places and totaled 10 1/2 points to take individual scoring honors. He won both hurdles and anchored the 880-yard relay team.

The Tigers defeated Public Hi in a previous meeting this spring, but Clinton failed to score heavier in events where as California furnished stronger competition that helped Smith-Cotton in the previous meeting.

Smith-Cotton failed to place in the 100-yard dash. However, the event was so close that Gary Christian, finishing fifth, was only three-tenths of a second behind Warrensburg's Goring, the winner in 10.6.

The Collins brothers of Warrensburg again dominated the mile and 880-yard runs. Don won the mile in 4:43.6, with Dan second, and Dan won the 880 in 2:08.8 while Don was second. Smith-Cotton's Jim Kresse, a sophomore, placed third in 4:55.6, his best time of the season, while Clifford Chappell, also a sophomore, finished fourth in 5:03.9.

The Tigers' next cinder competition is Friday when the Bengals host the Jefferson Jays in a dual meet at Jennie Jaynes Memorial Stadium. Events will get underway at 3:30 p.m.

What's for Dinner Tomorrow?

Do you plan your family meals well ahead of time? It's a good idea, and home economists recommend it. And if you actually do, you're in the minority.

Despite good intentions, only about four out of every ten homemakers make definite meal plans in advance. Reports from the U.S. Department of Agriculture show that fewer than half of the nation's homemakers plan meals ahead. Some women even say they don't decide what to serve until just before mealtime.

How often do you make out a shopping list before you go to the store? More than eight out of ten homemakers say they believe it's a good idea — but many of them shop without one, just the same.

Time was when good household management called for both planning meals ahead and having a carefully written shopping list made out before the trip to market.

Now, reports show that much grocery store merchandising is aimed at "impulse buying" where shoppers decide what they want after they get to the store. Many women depend upon what they see there for their inspiration as to the menu for their next meal.

Meat, especially, is the item they most often select at the store. Shoppers who've made no plans are the most receptive to food market promotions of specials or seasonal products.

It's still a good idea to plan your meals. Shop with a basic list, but keep it flexible enough to take advantage of what the store offers in the way of featured specials on plentiful commodities.

Serve Wild Greens This Spring

In spite of the fact that the average person delights in something for nothing, many of us fail to realize that we have, in Missouri, an abundance of greens which ordinarily go to waste in fields, pastures and yards. Wild greens are to be had for the gathering, or we should say the cutting, since when these are carefully cut new ones quickly replace them, so that a number of cuttings can be obtained from the same root in one season.

All we need to do is to learn which kinds are good to eat, are safe, and enough about laws and regulations so that we don't trespass.

Greens which many families in Missouri enjoy are lambs quarter, goose foot, plantain, dandelion, poke, dock, chick weed and pig weed. Wild chicory is good if picked just before the blue flower appears. It's especially good used raw in a salad. Many people like poke but care needs to be taken not to mix any of the root with the green shoots, because this root is not only bitter, it is poisonous.

Other greens to be avoided are all members of the wild carrot family, including Queen Anne's Lace and other related plants, with dissected lacey foliage having a white or yellow umbrella-like flower and a strong odor when crushed. Stems or leaves of plants with woody stems should not be used. It's important to use only the young, tender leaves of the plants. In the fruited or flowering stages most greens have a flavor too strong to be enjoyable.

Once the wild greens are picked, plan to use them quickly. They will wilt faster than garden greens, even as wild flowers wilt faster than flowers from the garden. Green leaves of any kind lose some value when they wilt.

Wash the wild greens with the same care you give to spinach or other garden greens. Don't let wild greens stand in water. If they must wait, store them in the refrigerator where it is cool and damp and they will become crisp.

If you use the wild greens in a salad you'll get the most in vitamins. You'll save more of the food value if you use sharp scissors or knife to cut, to avoid bruising. All greens are more frequently cooked than served raw. Since they have a decided flavor most people prefer to use a combination of greens rather than to use one kind. A blend of dock, dandelion and plantain makes a good combination. The juice in which the greens are cooked hold vitamins or minerals and should be served right along with the greens or used in some sauce or soup.

Be sure not to over-cook your greens. Wild greens, too, can be frozen or canned even as you

Feed Your Child With Persuasion

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Children are funny, just like grown-ups. They have definite likes and dislikes, and woe be to any mother who tries to force or who over-urges at mealtime.

When you want to feed your child a new food, it's much better to use gentle persuasion than to do battle. Introduce an unfamiliar food a teaspoon at a time if you want your child to enjoy the new acquaintance. You can gradually feed more of the food until a reasonable amount of it is welcomed.

Remember there are ways of getting around preschoolers' food dislikes. When an egg is rejected "as is," egg-enriched soup, custard or eggnog may be enjoyed.

Temperature is important in serving food. Most young children do not like food that is cold or hot; they prefer a midway temperature. When you first introduce solid foods to your baby, have the temperature close to the one he enjoys in liquid foods.

Children also like the familiar when it comes to eating utensils and seating arrangements. A little girl may acquire a real affection for a bowl, spoon, plate or cup. If she does, don't try to change the accessory of which she's grown fond until she's ready to give it up. When a child is old enough to eat at the family table, he'll usually cling to a particular seating place.

Children differ in their ways of eating. Some of them like portions of food in distinct places on their plate; others welcome a jumble of foods. My nephew, when he was

Honor Son With Farewell Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Henry White were hosts at a farewell dinner recently, honoring their son, John, who left for duty in the U.S. Army, April 1.

The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. realized the value of high-protein foods, used to advise mothers to scrape beef and liver to serve to their children. Nowadays ready-prepared meats for babies are widely available. Introduce them when your doctor advises you to do so. New cereals for babies also have high protein content; one of these—derived from oats, wheat, soy beans and yeast—has both valuable protein and pleasant flavor.

And one last tip. Guide your child, when you can, to a quiet play activity just before meals. He'll benefit from this—and so will you!

Roads Cash Allotments Due Shortly

WASHINGTON (AP)—First apportionments of federal funds to the states under the new highway construction bill are expected within the next few days.

A Bureau of Public Roads spokesman said, "We will cooperate with the states just as hard as we can to make this bill work."

President Eisenhower signed the big measure yesterday—the last day on which he could act—last expressed "serious misgivings" about what he called serious defects in it.

Democratic and Republican leaders in Congress said the measure should give a substantial lift to the economy.

These are the two apportionments to the states which can be made immediately under the bill:

400 million dollars of extra federal money for fiscal 1959 for primary, secondary and urban road systems—often designated A-B-C roads. This would have to be matched by 200 million of state money but the states could borrow 115 million of their share from Washington. Projects must be under contract by Dec. 1 this year.

200 million dollars by extra U.S. grants for the interstate system of superhighways for fiscal 1959. This would have to be matched on the usual 90-10 basis.

These amounts are in addition to 875 million of A-B-C money and two billion of interstate grants apportioned to the states last year for fiscal 1959.

All the money can be spent at once; the states do not have to wait until the fiscal year begins July 1.

In addition, the bill makes possible these federal apportionments in July, instead of December as would otherwise be the case:

2½ billion dollars of interstate system money for fiscal 1960. Without the new law, only $1,600,000,000 would have been available.

900 million dollars by A-B-C funds for fiscal 1960. These would be matched on the usual 50-50 basis.

Eisenhower centered his criticism on the 400-million-dollar special A-B-C fund, particularly on the provisions which changed for it the long-standing 50-50 matching formula and which permitted the loans to states of part of their share.

The President said he would resist any attempt to repeat these provisions in the future.

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.), chief sponsor of the measure, said the President's statement indicates "he is against the provision of the bill designed to break the back of the recession."

Food Poison Causes Roosevelt Discomfort

DENVER (AP)—A mild attack of food poisoning caused Rep. James Roosevelt (D-Calif.) to delay for about an hour an address to the Allied Jewish Community Council last night.

Apologizing to his audience, Roosevelt blamed the attack on food he ate at the House of Representatives restaurant in Washington.

The congressman flew here from Washington for his address, in which he said the Eisenhower administration has led this country into "the unfortunate position of being on the defensive in foreign affairs."

Reports on Red Cross

Mrs. W. Porter Murray, Knob Noster, chairman of the Red Cross drive in Washington township, reports that $355.20 has been collected there.

Gambler Files Simple Income Tax Return

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Birmingham, Ala., gambler who filed the sort of simple income tax return everybody dreams about today had orders from the U.S. Tax Court to do some complex recalculations.

The court said that U. O. Popwell oversimplified the matter in 1949-50-51. He filed returns consisting of a single figure representing as showing how far he was ahead as to wins and losses at the end of the year.

The court quoted Popwell as explaining: "At the end of the year I filed enough to take care of the government and I thought that was all that was necessary to stay out of trouble with them."

The Internal Revenue service contended that under the method employed, Popwell underpaid his taxes for the three years by about $350,000 and claimed he owed some $175,000 in penalties on this amount.

The court directed a refiguring of the returns—in detail.

Missiles Data Manipulation Is Charged

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American Society of Newspaper Editors was told today the Defense Department has manipulated information in an attempt to manage the news about missiles and satellites.

The charge was made by Rep. Moss (D-Calif.), chairman of the House Government Information Subcommittee. Moss' bill to remove some government secrecy wraps was approved unanimously by the House yesterday.

Moss told 400 editors, opening their annual meeting here, that immediately after the Soviets sent Sputnik I into space the Pentagon issued secret orders to "muzzle the experts who could explain our predicament."

Within the past few days, Moss added in his prepared speech, a "dangerous" directive to Secretary of Defense McElroy calling for tighter control over Defense Department information as a curb on interservice rivalries.

"Under the President's new instructions," Moss said, "This abuse of the security system would become worse, with Mr. Snyder (Asst. Secretary of Defense Murray Snyder) apparently set up as the undisputed censor of what the public shall know about the vast military establishment."

"The nation no longer can afford the withholding and manipulation of information merely to suit policies."

Moss charged that the handling of information on missiles and satellites has been "an example of management of the news on a colossal scale."

"Security has been perverted as a tool of censorship," he said. "Controversy has been smothered and shortcomings hidden in the name of national security."

However, the society hailed some gains in its long war on news suppression.

Herbert Brucker, chairman of the ASNE Committee on Freedom of Information, said House passage of the Moss bill was a "first dent in the wall of secrecy that has grown up in the government since World War II."

Brucker, editor of the Hartford (Conn.) Courant, said he has been informed by Sen. Hennings (D-Mo.), Senate sponsor of the bill, that it stands a good chance of early passage in the Senate.

But Brucker read a statement from Hennings which advised the editors that Atty. Gen. Rogers is insisting on an amendment to protect "executive privilege."

Missouri's Senator Symington Discusses Supersonic Flight With CAP Cadet Lt. Brown

One of the high points of the visit to Washington by Cadet Lt. Theresa Brown of the Jefferson City Composite Squadron, Civil Air Patrol, was the opportunity to visit in his office with Missouri's Senator Stuart Symington, first Secretary of the Air Force and now a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee and the Special Committee on Astronautical and Space Exploration.

Cadet Lt. Brown was chosen from among 26 Missouri squadrons for her outstanding achievements in the CAP and for her personal qualifications. The selection was made by the Missouri Wing Group Commanders, for an all-expense trip to Washington, March 3-6.

While in Washington, Cadet Lt. Brown was selected as the speaker for the Congressional Dinner. She was accompanied on the trip by Col. J. Orville Ladd, Missouri Wing Commander of the CAP, and Mrs. Ladd.

As pictured here, Senator Symington and Lt. Brown are discussing the model of the North American F-100F, in which the Missouri Senator was flown at 1102 m.p.h. last August.

On the mantel behind Senator Symington and Cadet Lt. Brown as they discuss the model of the supersonic fighter plane is the H. H. Arnold trophy awarded Senator Symington twice, first in 1948 for his work as Secretary of Air and again in 1956 for his work as chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on Air Power. In both years, the Air Force Association named Symington "Aviation's Man of the Year," the only man to be so honored twice in the history of the Association.

Daylight Savings Crazy-Quilt Pattern Will Begin April 27

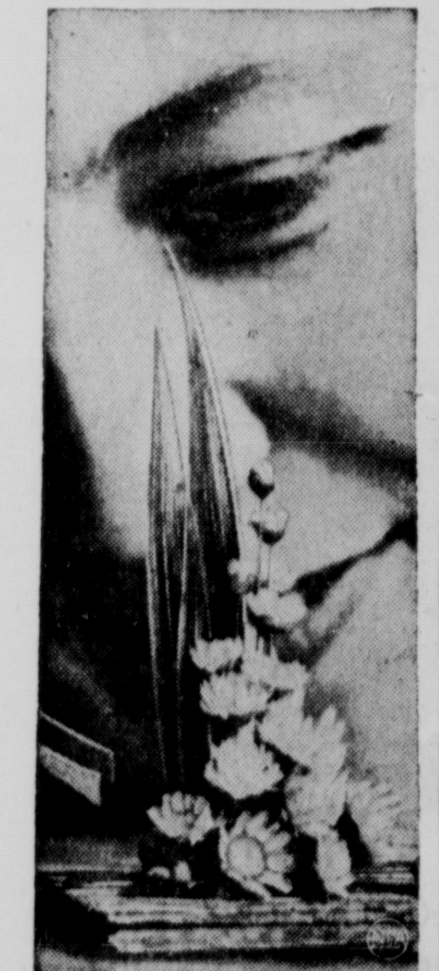

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A crazy-quilt pattern of daylight saving time will dot the nation starting April 27.
Some states will observe it; some not. Parts of other states will join in. Most of those that do go on "fast time" will end it Oct. 26; others on Sept. 28 and other dates.
Generally, the pattern is about the same as last year.
All the New England states will

Voroshilov Begins Long Lecture Tour

WARSAW (AP)—Marshal Klementi Y. Voroshilov, Bolshevik comrade-in-arms of Stalin, has set out to demonstrate that at least one old soldier doesn't fade away.
Voroshilov, 77 on Feb. 4, has embarked on a rigorous speaking tour which will take him through Poland and Yugoslavia, and he is likely to show his hosts he still has a flair for high living and an eye for a trim feminine figure.
His trip apparently is part of a Kremlin attempt to straighten out its differences with Communist leaders abroad.
Voroshilov now has an honorary post. As chairman of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet (Parliament) he occupies a position equivalent to figurehead president. He has no power in the Soviet Union, but he has proved beyond question that he has been agile. Throughout all the violent upheavals in the upper atmosphere of Soviet politics, he remained unscathed.
Voroshilov, his bulbous nose glistening with a rosy glow in testimony to his taste for high life, may well have won this trip as a reward for his faithful service to the new Soviet boss, Nikita S. Khrushchev. But the old marshal has been a faithful servant to all the bosses, from Stalin onward.
When Khrushchev appropriated the Soviet premiership last month Voroshilov made the nominating speech. He left no cliché unturned in heaping praise upon the Communist party boss.
So it had been with Stalin. Voroshilov met him first in London, in the days of pre-Revolutionary conspiracy. He was Stalin's faithful shadow through upheavals and power struggles, and loyalty brought its reward. In 1935, he was raised to the newly created rank of marshal of the Red army. And though he lost his active command during the retreat from Moscow, he remained a Stalin adviser all through World War II.
After the war Voroshilov was sent to Hungary with the Allied Control Commission.
Voroshilov was born the son of a Czarist army soldier. At 7 he was working in a Ukrainian coal mine, according to his official Soviet biography, and at 10 he was a shepherd boy teaching himself to read. In the violent pre-Revolutionary days he was in and out of jail many times as a strike agitator. Nevertheless he managed to leave Russia twice to join Socialist congresses in London and Stockholm, where he met Lenin.

Mrs. Robb Leads Study 'Meet Dr. Luke'

The women of Range Line Church met at the home of Mrs. Jimmie Reid for their monthly meeting on April 9. There were 15 members and one guest, Mrs. Hall Walls, present.
Mrs. W. L. Robb led in the study of "Meet Dr. Luke." Mrs. A. P. Reid Jr. had charge of the program on Christian education. Plans were made for the Birthday Objective to be held at the church in May.

observe daylight saving time from April 27 until Oct. 26, as will New York, New Jersey, most of Pennsylvania, Delaware and Washington, D.C.

Others setting the clocks ahead an hour will be Indiana, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Nevada and California.
Parts of Indiana, in the Central time belt, already are an hour ahead. Some areas in the northeast part of the state, including Fort Wayne and Elkhart, and in the southeast near Cincinnati have been on Eastern time by local option all through the winter.

States with split schedules include Illinois, Ohio, Missouri, Kentucky, Virginia, West Virginia, Alabama and Florida.
In Illinois, where local option prevails, about 500 communities, including the Chicago metropolitan area and large downstate cities, will go on daylight time April 27. Most will resume standard time Sept. 28, but the Chicago metropolitan area will stay on daylight until Oct. 26.

The northeast corner of Ohio will go on daylight time, with the rest of the state on standard. In Missouri, daylight time will be observed in the St. Louis metropolitan area and Poplar Bluff but not elsewhere. It will end Oct. 26 in the St. Louis area and Sept. 28 in Poplar Bluff.

Virginia will remain on standard time except in the northern suburban areas near Washington, where daylight time will be observed from April 27 to Oct. 26.
In West Virginia, daylight time will be confined largely to the northern Panhandle, including Wheeling and Weirton, and the Martinsburg.

Kentucky has a complex situation. The Legislature banned fast time after June 19. Louisville will go on daylight time from April 27 until June 14, then switch back to Central Standard Time unless the new law is defeated in court. Louisville schools and many factories will leave the clocks on standard time but start the day an hour early.

Alabama, with the exception of Huntsville, where the Redstone Arsenal is located, and Florida, with the exception of Eglin Air Force Base, will remain on standard.

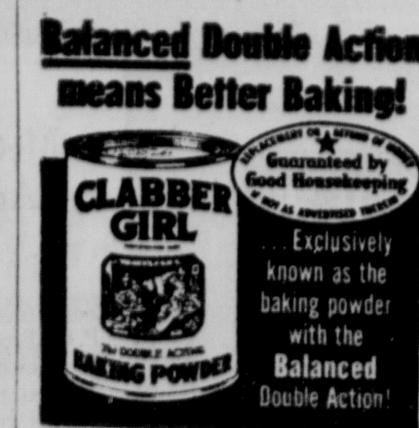

In New Mexico, Los Alamos will go on daylight time April 27, but the rest of the state will stay on standard.
Other states generally are staying on standard time.

The Recipe
Squeeze and reserve juice from 1 large orange. Measure juice and add milk to make 1 cup liquid. Grind orange rind and pulp with 1 cup seedless raisins and 1/3 cup nut meats; grind twice and set aside. Sift together 2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour, 3 teaspoons Clabber Girl Baking Powder, 1 teaspoon salt, and 1 cup sugar into large mixing bowl; add 1/2 cup shortening and 2/3 cup liquid. Beat 2 minutes using medium speed of electric mixer, or by hand beating 150 strokes per minute. Keep batter scraped from sides and bottom of bowl with rubber scraper. Add 2 eggs and remaining 1/3 cup liquid. Beat 2 minutes longer as before. Blend in fruit mixture. Pour into a greased and floured 9 x 9 x 1 1/2-inch baking pan. Bake in a 350° F. (moderate) oven about 45 minutes. Cool. Frost and decorate as desired. Cut in squares. Yield: 1-9 x 9-inch cake.

The "most important" thing about baking...
It's the balance of ingredients in baking powder that powers its leavening action. Only when these are scientifically balanced can you be sure of uniform action in the mixing bowl plus that final, balanced rise to light and fluffy texture in the oven.

Rev. Pilecki To Kansas City Parish

By Mrs. Denzil Boring
WARSAW—The Rev. Walter Pilecki, former pastor of St. Ann's Church at Warsaw and St. Peter and Paul's Church at Cole Camp, was transferred Monday to St.

Stephen's parish in Kansas City. Warsaw music students received a fine group of ratings recently at district music contests in Warrensburg. Bob Kennedy received a number one rating on his trombone solo and will enter state competition at Columbia April 25. Other solo numbers and their ratings were: Nancy Cooper, flute, two; Poyce Breshears, soprano, two; Mary Pohl, trumpet, two. The Warsaw band received a two-plus rating.

Windsor PTA Holds Last Meeting of Term

The Windsor PTA held the last meeting of the school term Thursday evening in the high school auditorium. Mrs. Claude Thuber, vice-president, conducted the business session.

James O. Fetter was program chairman and used the theme of the meeting "Our VIP's in Music." Mrs. Ethel Mayfield's grade one, Miss Jo Ann Johnston's grade one and two and Mrs. Alma Jo Johnston's grade two presented musical numbers.

A gift was presented to Superintendent F. J. Webb and Mrs. Ethel Mayfield by Forrest DeLozier, president of the school board. Webb, who has been in the Windsor school for 29 years, and Mrs. Mayfield for 36 years, are retiring from the teaching profession at the close of the school term.

After the business session Mrs. Wyley Gray was installed as president of the PTA for the coming year. Other officers installed were: Berney Ferguson, vice-president; Mrs. Walter Moser, secretary; Mrs. Robert Chipman, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Hand, historian. Mrs. Keith Frost installed the new officers.

The high school band under the direction of Mr. Fetter played several numbers.

Miss Jo Ann Johnston's grades one and two received the room award.

Ike's Decision Vexes Missouri Democrats

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Missouri Democrats, Senators Symington and Hennings and Rep. Brown, have expressed disappointment over President Eisenhower's veto of the 1 1/2 billion dollar water projects authorization bill.

Brown said the veto "puts us in a real spot on Table Rock dam" in Missouri.

Brown said the project was near completion but an additional authorization of $15,270,000 included in the vetoed bill was needed to finish the job.

Symington said he was unhappy over the veto because it included the additional authorization needed for completion of Table Rock and authority for construction of the Chain of Rocks dam on the Mississippi River above St. Louis.

Hennings expressed hope authorization for Missouri projects could be restored by overriding the veto or by eliminating parts of the bill to which the President objected.

Women's Farm Committee Has Career Day Tea for County Girls

The women's activities committee of the Pettis County Farm Bureau gave a Career Day tea on Saturday afternoon, April 12, at the First Christian Church, to which were invited junior and senior girls of high schools in the county.

Mrs. William McCune presided over the meeting and introduced the six speakers who talked on various professions.

The first speaker was the Rev. Harry Purviance, pastor of the First Christian Church, who talked on Christian vocations. He stressed the fact that any vocation in which you can render service to your fellowman is a Christian vocation. Some people, he said, choose the church vocation. There are many types of church vocations among which are included missionaries, youth directors, social work, ministers, and many other types of work in the religious field.

The church, he said, needs qualified people, especially in this atomic age. It needs people to guide the thinking in the right way. To be a minister, he said, takes at least seven years of preparation. The church is not interested in lazy people, said the speaker, because any type of religious vocation takes long hours extending far beyond the eight hour day, long preparation, hard work and a deep devotion to God.

"March of Youth In Missions," Theme At WSCS Meeting

Twenty-eight members and two visitors, Mrs. Frank Ratcliff and Miss Carol Kilgore, were present at the April meeting of the WSCS of the California Methodist Church on Monday evening. The quiet hour which preceded the general meeting was led by Mrs. Derry Brownfield.

Mrs. Pete Alexander conducted the worship service for the general meeting and Mrs. Gail Hughes presented the program, "The March of Youth in Missions." Mrs. Hughes was assisted by Mrs. Robert Hogge, Mrs. H. W. Schmidt and Miss Carole Kilgore, with talks on youth in missions.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. William Todd. Reports were given by officers and circle chairmen.

The nominating committee presented the slate of officers for 1958 and 1959. Those elected were: president, Miss Mary McCollister; vice-president, Mrs. Victor Gray; treasurer, Mrs. C. A. Schmolzi; recording secretary, Mrs. Herman Hodges; promotion, Mrs. J. T. Lee; local church activities, Mrs. James Newkirk; Christian social relations, Mrs. W. S. Lemen; literature and publications, Mrs. Gail Hughes; student, Mrs. N. D. Koy; youth work, Mrs. H. W. Schmidt; children's work, Mrs. Roger Connelly; spiritual life, Mrs. Neil Newton; supply, Mrs. Robert Hogge; missionary education, Mrs. George Wagner; and status of women, Mrs. Don Moore.

The social hour followed the business meeting. Refreshments were served by Mrs. J. T. Lee, Mrs. L. W. Fuerst, Mrs. Eugene Kilgore and Mrs. Henry Pointer.

The salaries are often far below other salaries but the people who follow religious vocations are always adequately clothed and housed. The greatest reward comes in seeing what happens to people who have come to you for help then successfully find their way, and you feel you have had a part in this guidance.

If you want to be wanted, said the speaker, choose the Christian vocation.

The second speaker was Mrs. Jack Fowler, who formerly worked at the Sedalia public library and is now on the board of the Boonlick Regional Library. This is a field, she said, that has many opportunities. If you want to study law or medicine and yet not practice, you can work in a law or medicine library. The past few years, she said, there has been a demand for more librarians because more libraries are being established in smaller towns. Industries, too, are putting in libraries.

The libraries of today, Mrs. Fowler told the group, are not the quiet places of yesterday, but very pleasant to work in. There are 12 jobs for every librarian. Two things are necessary, she said, one is to like people, the other is to like books. You must know your books in order to help people. A library job is not just sitting behind a desk checking out books; you have to be resourceful and after you receive your bachelor's degree, you must have one year of extra training. There are specialties, too, such as children's librarian and recording librarian. The salary is good, depending, of course, on the size of library.

The third speaker, Mrs. Jerry Engle, spoke on journalism, and stated that from this field you get personal satisfaction. As did the two previous speakers, she stressed the need for getting along with people. The ability to write is, of course, the main factor, but personality plays a big part in this job, too. No matter the education, most big papers like to have someone, she said, who has had experience on a small town paper where he has done all types of newspaper work, she said.

Shorthand is not necessary in this work. One needs, however, she told the group, ability to listen and to keep secrets. Also to be able to keep your head in any situation. You never know what the day will bring. It is a job on which you continue to learn and you find there is no such thing as a dull person; everybody makes a good story.

Miss Ruth McCune of LaMonte talked on teaching as a career and said that things are looking up in education because education is in the limelight. The public is awakening to the need for better schools. The salaries, now, are good, too, and compare favorably with industry, which previously has been taking the young people away from teaching.

Teaching, she pointed out, can be combined very satisfactorily with marriage and raising a family because of the hours and also the three months vacation during the summer. It is a gratifying public service to instill the desire for knowledge and a great thrill to watch the development of children. The supply of teachers never reaches the demand. There is little chance for boredom, for each child is different. There is personal satisfaction in feeling you have influence in shaping the lives of children and even shaping the world of tomorrow.

Mrs. Charles Green talked on nursing as a career. This, she said, requires an interest in people and a desire to help them. In selecting a school of nursing select an accredited school which is part of an accredited hospital. Hospital school of nursing requires three years; college five years. The college also gives a bachelor of science degree in administration. There are several phases of nursing, she said.

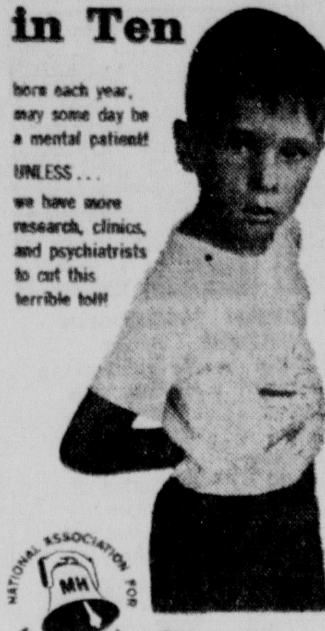

Each school has its own cap and its own pin, that is why you see so many different caps in a hospital. The cost depends on the school. There are scholarships given. After the training it is necessary to take a state board examination and when one passes that they become a registered nurse. Small hospitals pay about $250 but some of the large hospitals pay $400. Once a nurse, she said, you can always get a job, this is something nobody can take away from you. You might even quit, raise a family and then go back to nursing.

Mrs. Al Moore of Smithton, talked on home economics. This is something you can always use whether professionally or as a homemaker, and, after all, homemaking is a career in itself, she said. Most have four years college training, some a year. Homemaking, she said, has many different types of work and the field is wide open.

She stressed the fact that all the other speakers had told of the need of getting along with people. In home economics there is a phase in which you may work alone with just a machine.

One Child in Ten

here each year, may some day be a mental patient! UNLESS... we have more research, clinics, and psychiatrists to cut this terrible toll!

Give! Mental Health Campaign

It is research. Under home economics comes teaching of cooking and sewing, dieticians, food journalism, designing, demonstrating new stoves or washing machines for companies, there are camps and then there is the extension work in which the university is brought to the people. The latter is not hum-drum work, it is a busy job, but you work always with volunteer workers. The pay is good.

The girls were told that there are many scholarships offered that are never applied for and it would be well to look into these through their schools.

Entertainment was furnished by two groups of young singers — five girls from Hughesville sang one selection and a sextette from Green Ridge sang two numbers.

The program was followed by a tea. Spring flowers formed the centerpiece for the table and on either side were light green candles in three branch crystal candleholders. Mrs. McCune served the punch, and on the table was a large tray of fancy cookies.

Mrs. Earl Gregory, at the piano, played during the tea. The tea was arranged by Mrs. Bruce Claycomb, Mrs. Gordon Callis and Mrs. Fred Hoos.

Boys' Club Has Positive 'No' for Girls

SAN PEDRO, Calif. — Women may wear overalls, drive trucks, throw the discus, operate jackhammers and steal their husbands' razors.

But never will girls violate the sanctity of one of the world's last great masculine strongholds, the San Pedro Boys' Club.

Club director Nick Trani was dredging around for a topic for the club's annual essay contest. He finally came up with this: "Should the boys' club allow girls to use club facilities?"

The 10-year-olds in the organization, stunned that such a question should even be brought up, put their feet down with indignant finality. Quotes from a few of their essays:

"No, because they take off their shoes and shoo (show) their toes."

"No! But if they come in, let us have some nasal (national) guards . . . to defend ourselves."

"No. I don't want girls because this is a man's club."

From the 11-year-olds:

"No. Boys can't think with girls around."

"No. . . . The YWCA is for girls and that is where they should belong. If we boys tried to join the YWCA. . . . Do you think they would let us join? No!"

"No. They wear shoes instead of tenashoes."

The unanimity began to fade with the 13-year-olds, one of whom acknowledged: "Yes! Girls would make it popular. And also I like them."

But another wrote: "No! There would be fights because of them buttin' in."

The 15-year-olds, although heavily outnumbered, were about all snagged by nature's tender trap.

Said one: "Yes! You might be helping both boys and girls on their way to the Olympic Games."

And another: "Yes. I like girls and I think it would be more fun."

Director Trani's decision: A girl couldn't get into the San Pedro Boys' Club if she smoked a pipe, used snuff and wore a derby.

Soup Causes Polka Dot Bow Ties

LANSING, Mich. — Gov. G. Mennen Williams' affection for green polka dot bow ties can be traced back to a bowl of mushroom soup.

That's what the governor's 15-year-old daughter, Nancy says in an article in her junior school newspaper.

In the late 1930s, she said, the Williams family was entertaining Gov. Frank Murphy at dinner. Williams seated the guests and started to eat himself.

"Then it happened," Nancy wrote. "With one elegant movement he leaned over, pulled his chair up behind himself and simultaneously dunked almost his entire tie in his mushroom soup."

Williams splattered soup down the front of his suit and Mrs. Williams let the rolls burn in her rush to clean up the mess.

State Resources Have 43 New Industries

JEFFERSON CITY — While reports of mounting recession swirled across the country in the first three months of this year, Missouri's Division of Resources reported today, this state saw establishment of 43 new industries and expansion of 57 existing ones.

Currently, the division said in its first quarterly report, the amount expended on new and expanded plant facilities adds up to nearly $13½ million but will total more than $25 million by the time a work is completed.

They add 1,375 new job positions to be filled from the state's labor market, the report said.

Metropolitan areas got two of the new plants and 29 of the expansions. Outstate areas got 41 new plants and 28 expansions.

AT&T to Spend Over $2-Billion On Construction

NEW YORK — The American Telephone & Telegraph Co. will spend $2,200,000,000 on construction this year, its president told more than 2,600 stockholders yesterday.

Frederick R. Kappel, presiding at the 73rd annual meeting, said the big construction outlay for 1958 equals the amount spent in 1956, although it is 300 millions under last year's record outlay.

Kappel told a news conference preceding the meeting that the business downturn has just about bottomed off. The speed of economic recovery, he said, depends on the degree of statesmanship exhibited by government, politicians and economists.

During the meeting he said AT&T, despite the general business slowdown, added more than 1,400,000 telephones and the number of conversations handled has gone up more than five million a day.

But excessive spending coupled with tax cuts right now, he said, would mean another rash of inflation.

Efforts to improve equipment and methods have helped to keep costs down, Kappel said, adding:

"Certainly we don't enjoy increasing telephone rates, but if, in the long run, inflation continues to increase our costs, I see no alternative."

Marie's Mixed-Up Marriage Is Off

VAN NUYS, Calif. — The off-again, on-again marriage of actress Marie McDonald and Harry Karl is officially off.

Her attorney obtained a final divorce decree for the actress yesterday in Superior Court. Neither Miss McDonald nor Karl, a millionaire shoe manufacturer, was present.

The action made final an interlocutory decree along with a million-dollar property settlement, granted to Miss McDonald July 25, 1956.

The couple married in 1947, were divorced in 1954 and married again in 1955. They have two adopted children, Denise, 8, and Harrison, 7, and a daughter, Tina Marie, 18 months.

Williams splattered soup down the front of his suit and Mrs. Williams let the rolls burn in her rush to clean up the mess.

Senate Okays Federal Loans For City Jobs

WASHINGTON — The Senate has passed another on the list of Democratic sponsored antirecession bills — a billion-dollar federal loan fund for city public works projects.

The measure now goes to the House, where key Democrats have introduced similar legislation.

The Senate passed the bill last night 60-22 despite Eisenhower administration opposition and after overriding Republican attempts to tone down major provisions.

Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) called the public works bill an extremely important measure. He said more proposals to combat the recession would be coming along.

The public works bill authorizes a billion dollars of loans running up to 50 years at a 3½ per cent interest rate for a wide variety of public works projects including school and hospital construction as well as such standby works as streets and sewer.

The loan would be available both to cities and states, but sponsors said they expected it would chiefly benefit smaller cities.

Many of these are unable to borrow at lower than 3½ per cent, the sponsors said.

Four hundred million dollars would be a revolving fund to be used over and over as loans were repaid. The other 600 million would be available for lending only once.

Republicans sought to cut the total loan authorization to 500 million dollars, but this amendment by Sen. Bush (R-Conn) was beaten 52-33.

Defeated 53-33 was an amendment of Sen. Thurmond (D-SC), largely supported by GOP senators, to let the administration turn down loan requests from cities if they could get reasonable interest rates from private sources.

This left in the bill a provision requiring that loans be granted if cities cannot get "equally favorable terms" elsewhere.

Grandmother Dies After Scald Burns

LOS ANGELES — A grandmother died last night of burns suffered in a scalding. Police held her grandson, an unemployed bellhop.

John Robert Adams had been booked on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder after 76-year-old Mrs. Edna Helen Smith was splashed with hot water last week. Police said Adams beat her and threw the water on her after she chided him for his failure to get a job.

Bomb Blasts Algeria US Consulate Entry

ALGIERS — A bomb exploded in the entryway of the U.S. consulate in Algiers today. Reports said a Moslem woman was wounded.

It appeared likely the bombing was the work of extremist Frenchmen angered by U.S. pressure on the French government to reach a settlement with the Arab government of neighboring Tunisia.

Court Awards $30,000 Fee To Divorce Lawyer

NEW YORK — A jury yesterday awarded $30,000 to a Wall Street lawyer for services connected with the divorce of Winthrop Rockefeller and Barbara (Bobo) Sears Rockefeller. The attorney had sought $100,000.

A State Supreme Court jury deliberated three hours before ordering payment to Leo C. Fennelly. After the verdict, Fennelly asked for a new trial on the ground that the amount awarded was not enough. Justice Aron Steuer turned him down.

Mrs. Rockefeller, who had testified in the case, was not present when the verdict was reached.

Before the jurors began deliberation, Fennelly told them: "If I am awarded the $100,000 . . . it will be the hardest money, cent for cent, I have ever earned."

Fennelly, one of Mrs. Rockefeller's former attorneys, said that when she first consulted him — in November 1953 — Rockefeller had offered a $9,240,000 settlement for her and her son Paul. But, the attorney added, "she wanted more."

After extensive legal wrangling, Mrs. Rockefeller and her son received about six million dollars. With disbursements and interest, the Fennelly award actually amounted to more than $26,000. Of this, Mrs. Rockefeller is liable for some $14,000. Under an agreement with her former husband, she pays approximately a third, and he about two thirds.

Gold Hunting Family Attacks Pit Again After Detector Test

DALLAS — A gold-hunting family, its hopes dimmed somewhat, attacked the bottom of a pit again today after a man with a mine detector told them "there is either gold or iron down there."

James Gayton, 38, and Jesse Gayton, 54, acting on the advice of a man who says he is an expert in treasure symbols, have dug a pit 12 feet deep and 10 feet wide beneath the home of their father Eugenio Gayton, 77.

Yesterday Herbert Dyson entered the pit with a mine detector and estimated there is metal about three or four feet under the rocks at the bottom of the hole.

The Gaytons began digging after Miguel Rodriguez of Del Rio, Tex., discovered markings on a flagstone which he said indicated

SAC Says No Cause For B-47 Crashes

OMAHA — A Strategic Air Command spokesman says no single cause for a recent series of B-47 medium bomber crashes has been found.

Capt. James Brady said investigations of the recent series of crashes are not complete and therefore no corrections have been recommended and "we see no reason to ground the B-47 now."

early Spaniards had buried gold beneath the home.

He said if the Taytons dug to 12 feet, they would find a boulder blocking the entrance to underground rooms in which the gold was stored.

The boulder was found and removed, but only more rocks lay beneath it.

Minestrone---a Splendid Beginning

BIG SOUP FROM ITALY: Minestrone means "big soup" in Italian — and it's full of good things.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
Fresh vegetables make a hearty and delicious soup — the Italian Minestrone. Beef goes into this too, as do red kidney beans and spaghetti.

Top this great concoction with grated Parmesan or Romano cheese, add a loaf of crusty Italian bread sprinkled with sesame seeds and you'll have a splendid beginning for a company or family meal.

MINESTRONE

Ingredients: 2 pounds shin beef with bone, 3 quarts cold water, 2 tablespoons salt, 1 cup diced celery, 1 cup diced carrots, 1 cup cut-up snap beans, 1 cup diced pared potatoes, 1 cup sliced zucchini squash (not pared), 2 cups shredded cabbage, 1 can (one pound) red kidney beans, 1 can (one pound) tomatoes, 3 tablespoons instant minced onion, ½ teaspoon garlic powder, 2 tablespoons minced fresh or dried parsley flakes, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 3 tablespoons olive or other salad oil, ½ cup spaghetti (broken fine), grated Parmesan or Romano cheese.

Method: Put beef, water and salt in a 5-quart kettle. Cover and simmer until meat falls off the bones. Remove bones and meat; skim stock. Discard bones; cut up all meat into small pieces and return to stock. Add celery, carrots, snap beans, potatoes, squash, cabbage, kidney beans (including liquid in can), tomatoes (including liquid in can), onion, garlic powder, parsley, pepper, oil and spaghetti. Cover and simmer 30 minutes or until vegetables and spaghetti are soft. Serve with grated cheese. Makes 4 quarts, enough for 16 servings.

Note: A ham bone may be substituted for the shin beef and bacon fat may be used instead of the olive or other salad oil.

flavored fennel — available at Italian and other markets? Serve it as finger food with tomato juice, or as a salad (sliced thin) with a dressing of olive, wine vinegar, salt and pepper.

Snap beans make a delightful salad when they are prepared Italian style. Cut ends from the fresh green beans and wash well in cold water. Cook whole, in a small amount of salted water, just until tender; cover during cooking but lift cover a few times to help keep beans green. Drain. Marinate in a mixture of olive oil, white wine vinegar, dry mustard, salt, and white pepper — adding a suspicion of sugar and some paper-thin onion rings if you like. Serve on romaine, chicory or escarole. This salad is delicious with left-over cold veal or roast pork.

Mr. and Mrs. James J. Kane and daughters, Cleveland, O., returned there after spending a 10-day vacation here visiting with her mother, Mrs. Margaret Young-kamp, and brother, John Young-kamp, and other relatives.

On Easter Sunday they were the guests of honor at a family dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert Fowler, Kansas City. Those present were the honorees, Mrs. Margaret Youngkamp, John Youngkamp and son, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Murphy and family, Columbia, Mo., and Mrs. Leo Weber and family, Overland Park, Kan., Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hudson and family, Mission, Kan., and Mrs. Paulette Fowler.

Big Firm Dominates Defense Department

So far the planes are quite small, toy size models that have not yet gotten off the ground. Ike's Defense Plan Is Based On Atom Weapons Concepts

The big question that must be asked is whether there could be any such animal as "limited" atomic warfare. Kissinger says yes. Because the Administration has accepted so many of his recommendations, one concludes that the Administration concurs.

our military effort is toward creating a military machine for the nuclear age, what hope is there for disarmament? The real reason why it is so difficult for us to sit down with the Russians on this issue, is that there is precious little for us to talk about. Any concession we make would diminish our nuclear power. And because that is the whole of our military power, we can hardly afford to make concessions.

F.R.B. and House Take Anti-Recession Steps

Launches Reorganization Plan

Ike Says Defense Foes Talk Nonsense

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower told the nation Thursday congressional critics are besieging his military reorganization plan with nonsense, untruth and misrepresentation.

The whole purpose of the plan, he said, is "safety with solvency" and "the country is entitled to both."

Launching the battle he has promised for his plan, Eisenhower addressed a luncheon of the American Society of Newspaper Editors and the International Press Institute. The speech was broadcast nationally by television and radio.

Eisenhower repeatedly emphasized the negative. He said his defense reorganization program will create no monstrous, Prussian-type military command. That was a direct comeback at Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services Committee.

Eisenhower said, too, the plan will create no czar to "overwhelm our liberty," no threat to Congress' purse string power, "no 40-billion-dollar blank check," "no swallowing up of the traditional services."

On the positive side, the chief executive said the program will stop unworthy and costly bickering among the services and establish unified combat command and strategic planning.

To cling to the idea of waging war by separate ground, sea and air forces, the former general said, would put the country in a deadly peril.

"I am quite sure," Eisenhower went on, "that the American people feel it is far more important to be able to hit the target than it is to haggle over who makes a weapon or who pulls a trigger."

He urged Congress to accept and apply the facts of modern military life, to sweep away the legal fog he said envelopes the authority of the secretary of defense.

The hard-hitting counterattack apparently was aimed in spots not only at disapproving members of Congress but also at some military men who are showing signs of dissent.

Only by one, the chief executive reviewed and upheld the major points of the reorganization program he sent to Congress Wednesday. It would expand greatly the authority of the defense secretary and strengthen the hand of the chairman of the joint chiefs of staff. Later, he plans to ask Congress to give the secretary greater flexibility in defense spending.

Slow Demand Wipes Out Losses In Grains

CHICAGO (AP)—A broad, moderate demand in the final few minutes of Board of Trade dealings today wiped out a few losses and extended gains of all other grain futures.

More than half the contracts finished with gains of a cent a bushel or more with May rye out ahead by 2 1/2-2 3/4 cents, mainly on short-covering.

Only May wheat and corn barely made it to the plus side after lagging behind all day. All others were up by major fractions.

A good amount of export business stirred up the buying. Yugoslavia bought about 400,000 bushels of hard wheat for May shipment and Denmark bought 350,000 bushels of soybeans.

At the close, wheat was 1/4-1/2 cents a bushel higher, corn 1/4-1/2 higher, oats 1/4-1/2 higher, rye 1-2 1/2 higher and soybeans 1/4-1/2 higher.

Airline Data Is Compiled By Chamber

The Chamber of Commerce is embarking on a tremendous project to gather all information concerning Sedalia and the area relative to airline service including passenger, express, parcel post, mail and freight for inclusion in a huge economic exhibit for exchange with all interested parties concerning an area local air service consideration presently before the Civil Aeronautics Board. There must be 20 copies of compiled information for the Air Line itself.

The Chamber is cooperating with the City of Sedalia and Airport Board in compiling this information before the deadline to be May 16.

A survey of industry will be made by mail; hotels and motels will be called on to provide certain information and other business firms and professional people will be contacted by telephone and the full cooperation of everybody is needed to assist the Chamber in this big task.

It was indicated by Dale Fearn, chief of the aviation section of Aviation Resources and Development, as well as other sources, that if Sedalia is not included in this area case it will be four or five years before consideration of Sedalia will come before the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Any interested citizen who would have occasion to use airline service is requested to call the Chamber of Commerce and let his use of airline service be known.

Indonesia Takes Rebel Capital Without Trouble

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Thousands of Indonesian government infantrymen and marine commandos moved into the rebel capital of Padang in central Sumatra Thursday after a massive amphibious landing on the beaches north of the city.

They moved to link up with paratroopers and special combat forces who earlier in the day seized the Padang airport with hardly a fight.

The joint naval, land and air operations appeared to be near accomplishing the objective of smashing a two-month-old rebellion by young army colonels against the Sumatra government.

The long-predicted government offensive opened at daybreak.

A destroyer and two corvettes shelled the beaches. Then two companies of Marine commandos swept ashore from transports. Parachute troops plummeted simultaneously onto the airport four miles north of Padang.

Reinforcement were ordered in on reports of light resistance on the beachhead.

The rebel defense line was thin, stretched along 100 miles of coast north and south of Padang, the last major rebel stronghold on Sumatra.

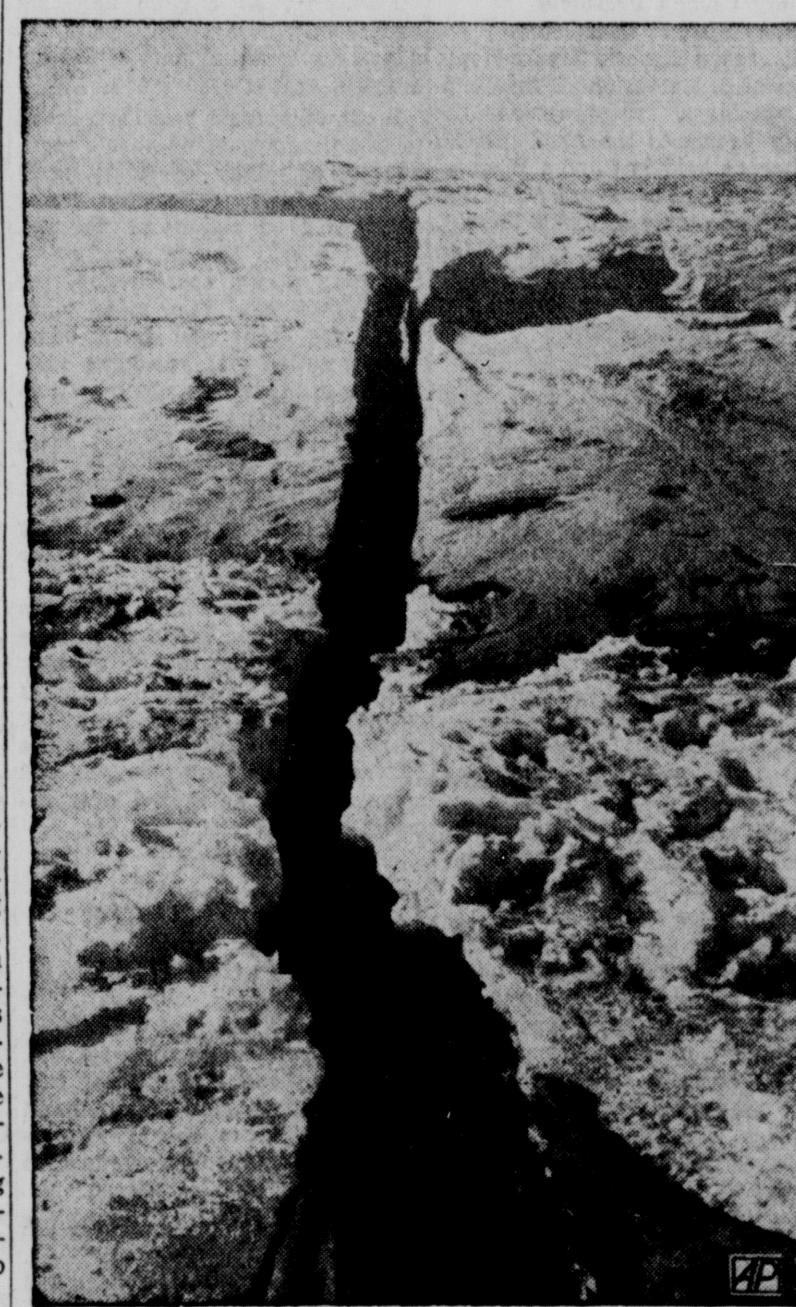

Seizure of the airport was speedy.

Scrap Dealer Wins Suit Against the UAW

DETROIT (AP)—Scrap dealer Carl Renda Thursday won a $400,000 verdict against the United Auto Workers Union and four of its aides in his damage suit charging malicious prosecution in the 1948 shooting of Walter P. Reuther.

One of the defendants, Emil Mazey, UAW secretary-treasurer, called the verdict "an obvious miscarriage of justice" and said the union will appeal the decision.

Renda demanded 4 1/2 million dollar damages at the start of the trial five months ago. He charged the union sought to pin the Reuther shooting on him by paying Donald Ritchie of Windsor, Ont., $5,000 to testify against him.

QUAKE OPENS CRACK — This huge crack more than a foot wide and nearly 10 feet deep was opened on the bank of the Koyukuk River 270 miles northwest of Fairbanks, Alaska, by the earthquake which shook the area April 7. The quake estimated by seismologists at a magnitude of 7.5, was believed to have centered in this general area. The area is practically uninhabited and little damage was reported by the tremor. Stan Frederickson, U.S. game management agent who took the picture, reports ice fields badly shattered making airplane landings impossible in many places. (AP Wirephoto)

France Accepts A-Weapons

End Meet With Strong Display of Solidarity

PARIS (AP)—Western defense ministers ended their conference Thursday with a strong display of solidarity, bolstered by a report that France has agreed in principle to the stationing of American-built missile bases and nuclear warheads on her soil.

A communique winding up the North Atlantic Treaty Organization ministers' three days of meetings said the conferees endorsed plans for a ground force in central Europe would be backed by a network of medium-range missile bases capable of hurling nuclear warheads into the Soviet Union.

The ministers also endorsed plans for coordinated research and production of new weapons and confirmed support of NATO strategy as outlined by Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme Allied commander in Europe.

A senior official said Norstad advised the ministers of France's agreement in principle to the bases. A French Foreign Ministry spokesman said negotiations with the United States now are under way. If successfully concluded, these talks could lead to establishment of rocket-launching bases in France.

The ministry spokesman would give no details, however, of the status of the negotiations or of French terms for an agreement, and American officials would not comment.

Britain was the first to accept medium-range missile bases, and Norstad said other European nations in preliminary talks indicated they would accept them.

Norstad startled the defense ministers by refusing to name the other nations on the ground too much information on the secret sessions was leaking to the press. NATO Secretary General Paul-Henri Spaak supported the American general's complaint of leaks.

The French decision could be withdrawn by a new French government that is due to replace Felix Gaillard's caretaker regime.

Norstad's strategy is to build up a shield to about 30 divisions — or roughly double the present numbers — armed with both conventional arms and tactical atomic weapons.

Central Missourians Like Sedalia's 'Buys'

Central Missourians are finding out that Sedalia is the place to buy. Before the "You Auto Buy Now" campaign began last Friday, many buyers sought out bargains in larger cities, under the impression that Sedalia, a medium-size town, could not offer the selection and discounts found out of town.

But since the campaign began drawing attention to special bargains offered in the automobile field, buyers naturally investigated the possibility of making savings in other retail merchandise. According to reports of several retailers, business has improved considerably since the campaign began.

By buying in Sedalia, individuals not only make substantial savings, but get better service than they could by making an out-of-town purchase.

Many out-of-towners have visited Sedalia during the campaign, and have made purchases here. Two men, according to Mike O'Connor, chairman of the new car dealers' steering committee, made a 100-mile trip to another city to buy cars. They didn't like the deal they were offered, and returned to Sedalia to buy the cars.

The nine new car dealers in Sedalia represent 17 different makes of US cars, along with various makes of foreign cars. The Routsong Motor Co. features the Borg-Ward, an economical West German make; the Cal Rodgers Pontiac Co. represents the Vauxhall, a British car; Mike O'Connor represents the Opel, a General Motors line produced in West Germany; and the Tiptoe Motor Co. represents Mercedes-Benz, another West German firm.

There are only four more days left to take advantage of Sedalia's biggest car sale. New car lots, and used car lots belonging to the nine dealers will remain open until 9 p.m. for the duration of the sale, which ends Monday. To give everyone a chance to take advantage of the discounts offered, the lots will be open from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Discount Rate Cut To Banks

Push Bill For Relief Grants For Jobless

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board launched some new financial maneuverings Thursday to combat the recession, and a House group pushed a bill for outright relief grants for the unemployed.

These far-apart attacks on a common problem came amid Senate debate on whether the Eisenhower administration is doing what it should to meet the situation.

The Federal Reserve dropped the discount rate charged member banks who borrow from reserve banks to 1 1/2 per cent at New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis and Minneapolis.

The rate had been 2 1/4 per cent in these cities, as it continues for the present in the other seven Federal Reserve districts.

In a separate move, the Federal Reserve reduced the amount of reserves which banks in New York and Chicago must maintain against demand deposits. It was explained this step was linked to the export of about 600 million dollars of gold in recent months, which had the effect of tightening the domestic money supply.

Both actions by the Federal Reserve are calculated to make money more easily available for American enterprises. This is the fourth time in five months that the discount rates have been reduced with that goal in mind.

In a major action at the Capitol, House Ways and Means Committee Democrats reached tentative agreement on a billion-dollar emergency plan for relief of unemployed workers. This would be financed wholly by the federal government.

The program, going beyond a plan advanced by President Eisenhower, will be put to a committee vote Friday. Chairman Mills (D-Ark.) said he expected it would be called up in the House next week.

The agreement was reached at a caucus of the Democratic committee majority.

The proposed relief bill would apply both to jobless workers insured under state compensation programs and those who are not now eligible for jobless pay.

It has been estimated that about 60 per cent of the present five million unemployed are now covered by state programs, and 40 per cent are not covered.

The tentative compromise would provide 16 weeks additional unemployment compensation benefits to workers who have exhausted their benefits under present state programs.

President Eisenhower asked for not more than a 50 per cent extension of the number of weeks now provided by the states. This would mean a maximum of 13 additional weeks in the larger industrial states, and less in most others.

The Democratic program also would provide the same 16 weeks of benefits to workers not covered by unemployment insurance, and who do not now qualify for any jobless pay.

Eisenhower's program made no provision for unemployed workers not covered by state programs.

Woman Keeps Promise To Shoot Dog Beater

SALEM, Ore. (AP)—The woman was outraged when she saw Gail Stacy beating the dog, and told him, "If I had a gun I would shoot you."

Stacy handed her a .22 caliber rifle and drawed, "go ahead and shoot."

A second later Stacy fell, mortally wounded.

A woman, booked as Mrs. Helen Ruth Stacy, 46, was charged with second-degree murder Wednesday in State District Court, where she said her last name is Smith but that she took the name of Stacy after living with him more than a year. Their home was south of Salem.

She is being held for grand jury action.

REFINERY EXPLOSION — An explosion of iso-propane gas at the Ben Franklin Oil Co. refinery north of Ardmore, Okla., jarred residents of the southern Oklahoma city. The explosion touched off fires in two 55,000-barrel tanks of caselading oil which raged for several hours before burning itself out. There were no deaths or injuries. (AP Wirephoto)

At Armed Forces Day Banquet

Deputy Chief of Staff Of AF to Speak Here

Maj. Gen. Robert B. Landry, United States Air Force, will be the speaker at the second annual Armed Forces Day dinner meeting to be held in Sedalia on May 16. The affair is co-sponsored by the communities in the vicinity of the Whiteman Air Force Base.

Committees of the area are represented at Warrensburg, Marshall, Knob Noster, La Monte, Clinton, Windsor, Concordia, and Sedalia. Sedalia was chosen for the site due to the spacious Smith-Cotton cafeteria where at least 600 persons can be served.

Gen. Landry is assistant deputy chief of staff of Personnel, Headquarters USAF in the Pentagon, Washington, D.C. He is considered one of the top three men in the Air Force. He is no stranger to the Whiteman Air Force Base installation, having visited there some time ago with former President Harry S. Truman.

He has the distinction of having been the first Air Force aide to the White House and that was under President Truman. It was during this time that he actually became acquainted with the installation in Missouri when the delegations from Sedalia and Warrensburg visited the President to seek his assistance in having the Sedalia Army Air Field, as it was known then, reactivated. He had personal knowledge of these activities and became interested in them.

Gen. Landry is a native of New Orleans, La., where he was born Dec. 1, 1909. He attended the Tulane University for a year and graduated from the U.S. Military Academy at West Point on June 10, 1932, commissioned a second lieutenant in the infantry.

After two years service with the infantry in the United States, he turned to aviation and entered flying training. He completed his training in March, 1935, and was transferred to the Air Corps. He was assigned as a flying instructor at Kelly Field, Tex., and later that year went to the Panama Canal Zone for a two-year tour of duty. He went to Hawaii in 1937 and served at Hickam Field and Fort Shafter in various capacities.

During World War II he served preme Headquarters, Allied Expeditionary Forces.

In January, 1946, he was made a member of the Joint Operations Review Board of the Army-Navy Staff College. In June of that year he was named as instructor in operations at the National War College. In August, 1947, he was named executive to the chief of staff of the Air Force and the following February was assigned as air aide to President Truman. On Feb. 16, 1953, he became deputy commander of the Second Air Force, Strategic Air Command, Barksdale AFB, Louisiana.

Joining the Continental Air Command on Feb. 1, 1955, Gen. Landry assumed command of the Fourth Air Force at Hamilton AFB, Calif. On July 1, 1957, Gen. Landry became assistant deputy chief of staff, personnel.

His decorations include the Legion of Merit, Distinguished Flying Cross with one Oak Leaf Cluster, Air Medal with four Oak Leaf Clusters, French Croix de Guerre, and Belgian Croix de Guerre with Palm. He holds the rating of command pilot.

Gen. Landry is a personal friend of United States Sen. Stuart Symington, who was Secretary of the Air Force during the years Gen. Landry was the White House aide. It was through Sen. Symington that Gen. Landry was secured to be the speaker for the annual area affair.

Last year's Armed Forces Day dinner meeting, held in Sedalia, was considered one of the largest attended in the country. The various community committees are working to make the 1958 affair bigger and better.

Tickets for the dinner can be obtained through the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce or through members of the committees in the above mentioned cities.

with the Eighth Air Force in Europe. Among his assignments were: chief of combat operations on March 9, 1942; commander of the 56th Fighter Group on Oct. 30, 1943; executive of the 93rd Combat Wing on Nov. 14, 1944; commander of the 493rd Bomb Group on Feb. 15, 1945. That June he was named assistant chief of staff for operations of the air staff, Su-human dolls, but insisted they had thousands of other things to show.

"For instance," said Mrs. Katherine Howard, deputy fair commissioner, "our voting machines. They reveal the way of the secret ballot."

Food and drink — Communist and otherwise — became one of the day's most urgent demands. And, because of the size of the crowd, it was hard to buy.

In the eating and drinking department, the Soviets led all the way. They flung open the doors of a modern, spacious restaurant serving caviar, blinis, beef stroganoff, kievski cutlets and shashlik among other dishes.

Contract Is Extended For College President

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—Dr. Roy Ellis, president of Southwest Missouri State College 31 years. Thursday was given a three-year extension of his contract by the board of regents.

Dr. Ellis, 70, was active in launching a building program under which six new buildings are scheduled for completion within the next three years at the college.

William C. Cockrill of Springfield, board president, said the college needs Dr. Ellis' continued leadership during the building program.

US and Soviet Stage Propaganda Tug-of-War at Fair's Opening

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—The United States and the Soviet Union staged a peaceful tug-of-war at the World's Fair opening in a bold bid to galvanize attention on their different ways of life.

Thousands swarmed into both shows. They saw graphic exhibits of life under communism; and on the other side of the road, some of the fruits of free enterprise.

Neither country kept any count of the milling throngs but there seemed to be general agreement that the U.S. building pulled in more people.

Each nation spent millions of dollars in setting up two splendid pavilions at the first World's Fair

Furniture Care
General cleaning—A good, general cleaner for furniture may be made at home by mixing together the following ingredients: one tablespoon turpentine plus three tablespoons boiled linseed oil plus one quart hot water.
The turpentine and boiled linseed oil can be purchased at most paint or hardware stores. This mixture must be kept hot as you use it. Using a clean cloth, wet it in the solution and rub it on one section of the furniture at a time. Then polish with a dry clean cloth. In this mixture the turpentine serves to cut the dirt while the oil lubricates and polishes the wood.
This mixture should not be used on a shellac finish as the water may cause it to spot or turn white. A worn shellac finish should usually be removed and the article refinished. To determine whether or not the finish is shellac, rub a small area on the underside of the piece with denatured alcohol. If the finish is shellac, it will soften.
When your furniture has been thoroughly cleaned, protect it with a good polish or wax. White spots—If your furniture is badly soiled and shows white spots, rub 4-5 or 6-pumice powder into the surface with a pad of 3-4 steel wool that has been kept wet with lightweight mineral oil or paraffin oil. Always rub with the grain of the wood and rub lightly to avoid damaging the finish. Wipe off the mixture with a soft, dry cloth.
Slight Scratches—(a) Rub well with linseed oil or a nut meat. Polish with a clean dry cloth. (b) Use a good commercial scratch remover. Select a color which blends with the color of the wood.

Knife and Fork To Hear Noted Labor Speaker

"Cy" Radcliffe, a young fellow who made good as a small businessman running a successful farm implement business in Idaho, and who "retired" after a long tangle with the Labor Relations Board which insisted it knew more about running his business than he did, will be the next guest speaker of the Knife and Fork Club the evening of April 12 at the Bothwell Hotel, beginning at 6:30.

Radcliffe has just returned from a lengthy observation trip to the Iron Curtain Countries, the Arab and Jewish states and Southern and Eastern Asia. He viewed labor conditions, production facilities and potentials in these countries. In his address here he analyzes their significance in the light of relations with the United States.

Farm Group Has Expanded Housing Loan

An expanded farm housing loan program designed to speed up farm building construction and improvement as well as act as an additional anti-recession measure was announced today by Kenneth F. Fine, Farmers Home Administration supervisor in Pettis County.

Now an owner of a farm in agricultural production and on which the operator plans to produce at least $400 worth of farm commodities for sale or home use may qualify for the four per cent long-term housing loan provided he meets other standard eligibility requirements.

Formerly, an eligible applicant had to own a farm that produced a more substantial part of the operator's annual cash income.

Borrowers may use loan funds to build, improve, or repair farm houses or other essential farm buildings, and to provide water for farmstead and household use. Mr. Fine said that in addition to financing major construction, the loan funds can help meet other needs for farm and farm home modernization such as adding bathrooms, utility rooms, better kitchens, and many other improvements to the home as well as to farm service buildings. While tenants and farm laborers are not eligible, the owner may borrow to do construction work or make improvements for them.

The loans are made to farm owners who need credit to finance building improvements or repairs, but find that adequate credit is not available through banks or other regular credit channels. The interest rate is four per cent and loans may be amortized over periods up to 33 years.

Former Houstonian Receives Promotion

R. L. Parkhurst, Shell Oil Company's Seattle division retail manager, has been promoted to sales manager of the company's Albany, N.Y., marketing division. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Parkhurst, Houston, Tex. Dr. Parkhurst has practiced medicine in Pettis County for over 50 years.

Parkhurst will visit his parents and friends on April 12 and 13, enroute to his new assignment.

firm. His title is vice president in charge of the personnel staff.
Seaton took his team back to the bargaining table Tuesday for renewal of talks with the United Auto Workers on a new contract after a 12-day recess. He has the enthusiasm of a man who likes his work.

Bargaining time means living your job 24 hours a day, giving up recreation, losing sleep, taking a lot of needling and never losing your temper. But Seaton doesn't complain. He has a knack of being able to get by on a few hours sleep and still think clearly.

"There's a sense of achievement," he explains, "in finally reaching a settlement at the bargaining table without having a strike."

A grandfather at 51, Seaton has the appearance of a much younger man. He has ample brown hair without any trace of gray. He is a sharp dresser, sticks to vests so he can have pockets to carry pencils. But when the smoke-filled bargaining room gets heated he strips down to shirt sleeves.

He talks down-to-earth. He is quick at repartee, likes to kid the other fellow.

What are the qualifications of a good bargainer for management?
First of all, Seaton says, "You must have an understanding of the workman's problems and know plant operations."

It's not unusual for Seaton himself to show up at a plant even for a comparatively minor labor dispute.

"You need a good memory," Seaton says. He explains that in the quick give-and-take at the bargaining table, a negotiator has to have his facts at tongue tip.

"The management negotiator must be a guy of integrity," Seaton says. "If he gets caught once on a 'fast one' by the union fellows, he is lost."

A knowledge of labor law also is considered a must by Seaton. From their homes in suburban Huntington Woods, Seaton and GM's legal expert, Harry S. Benjamin Jr., usually ride to work together. They try out all the GM cars.

As a final qualification, Seaton says the company negotiator needs a lot of patience in getting to the root of a problem — "He should take plenty of time to find out what the real gripe is."

Louis G. Seaton was born in Detroit June 10, 1906. He first met his wife Kathleen when both were students at Wayne University here. They have two sons, John, 24, an engineer at Pontiac Motors, and Peter, 17, in high school, and a daughter, Mrs. Frank B. Swartout of Whittier, Calif.

Of medium build, Seaton keeps fit playing golf and tennis and going fishing at his lake cottage.

'Lonesome Soldier' Dies at Age 63

WAYNESBURG, Pa. —A western Pennsylvania man who was dubbed the "World's Most Lonesome Soldier" in World War I died yesterday at the age of 68.

Dode Cunningham of nearby Ruff Creek was given the nickname by a woman journalist who visited on Army camp at Chillicothe, Ohio, during World War I. She noted that he apparently was the only member of Company M, 330th Infantry Regiment, whose name never seemed to come up in mail call.

The journalist wrote a widely published story about Cunningham's plight, and he became the object of a national letter-writing campaign that belied his nickname.

It was said that the Army had to set up a special mail detail to handle the volume. A linotype operator for the "Washington Post" Observer who was a Army camp recalls that Cunningham received some 15 truckloads of mail.

Mills, speaking at Harding College here Wednesday, suggested that the tax range from 10 to 65 per cent instead of the current 22 to 92 per cent.

The congressman said he could not recommend a tax cut at this time. Any tax revision is a gradual process, he added.

Iowa Educator Contends Schools Are Too Small

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The typical American public school is too small to do its job properly, says an Iowa educator.

Ralph C. Morris of Des Moines, superintendent of Polk County schools, contends 10 to 15 per cent of American youth need specialized services. The small school district, he said, cannot pay for them.

Morris told the International Council for Exceptional Children that the typical school has 300 students and 10 teachers from kindergarten through the 12th grade. The minimum, he said, should be 40 teachers and 1,200 pupils.

Morris cited a recent survey that showed at least 3,000 students were needed in a school for efficient and economical use of a psychologist. To employ a guidance counselor, the school should have at least 1,200 students.

For a school district to provide adequate instruction for partially blind children, he said, it should have an enrollment of 10,000 through the 12th grade. Proper instruction of the physically handicapped requires an enrollment of 4,500.

The solution, he said, is for many of the nation's 50,000 school districts to combine.

As it is, Morris said, rural people—including those in communities of less than 2,500—suffer 90 per cent of the nation's teacher shortage.

St. Louis Ends Year With Unforseen Deficit

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The city wound up in the red this year for the first time since Mayor Raymond R. Tucker was elected in 1953.

Comptroller John H. Poelker said the city came out with a $343,333 deficit for fiscal year which ended Monday.

Poelker said the deficit was caused by unexpectedly low revenues.

A payment to the city by the Metropolitan Sewer District of $200,000 would have cut the deficit but it came on Tuesday, one day late.

One loss of revenue was a two per cent hotel tax which was to have brought in an estimated $90,000.

But the hotels are contesting the tax's legality and have not paid it.

Susan Strasberg

Stage-Screen Pixie Ready For Major Career Change

By WILLIAM GLOVER
NEW YORK — Stage-screen pixie Susan Strasberg is ready for a major career change.

When it will happen, however, she hasn't decided. "I have a flexible deadline," she says.

The whole thing is quite typical of hazel-eyed Susan, who is an elusive firefly at questions-and-answers.

Miss Strasberg, 19, currently merits dual attention because she is both the fairy princess of the Broadway hit "Time Remembered" and the heroine of a just-released film, "Stage Struck."

The latter, she concedes, is autobiographical—up to a point. "This play and movie," she says, "were for transition from tomboy girl to grown-up roles."

"I feel I've now reached a point in career development where it is frightening to go ahead—and just as frightening to step back. The only thing to do is plunge in."

"I feel after these parts I've at least got the courage to try. Who wants to do the easy thing?"

Susan, who achieved stardom a couple of seasons back in "The Diary of Anne Frank," and was a hoyden in the film "Picnic," is a bewitching blend of contradiction in conversation.

She doesn't mind criticism—her voice has received adverse comment in some quarters—because if people didn't pick on one thing they would on another, and without criticism "I'd be bored."

At one point Susan says the "Anne Frank" role created no later career problem, later observes it caused a "hangover of challenge"; feels nervousness "is good—except when it stands in the way"; and contrasts stage and screen work like this:

"To keep up a movie role you have to use energy harder, but the stage is more of a drain."

As for the glitter and glamor, the young star feels she has missed nothing of girlhood "except people always envy what they don't have."

Given a free choice, however, 5-foot-1, 95-pound Susan would like to be taller.

Miss Strasberg, an avid reader—currently lyric poetry, sprinkles her talk with philosophy whenever possible.

Asked about romance, for example, she counters: "I am interested in man."

LIFELONG LOVE: At the opposite end of the scale from Miss Strasberg is Viola Roache, a white-haired veteran now celebrating the 50th anniversary of her stage career.

"I've never gotten over the theater's wonderful smell," she declares, explaining the delight as a compound of greasepaint, the aroma of painted scenery, dust and even the inevitable mustiness of battered dressing rooms.

Miss Roache, who has been in "My Fair Lady" since it opened and is under contract there until 1960, got her first stage job in April 1908, by innocently approaching a London manager.

"What can you do, little girl?" he asked me," she recalls. "All I could say was 'I want to act.'"

With Miss Roache in "My Fair Lady" is her daughter, Philippa Bevan.

"You'll notice I never am too specific about dates," says the mother. "I don't mind about myself but one does have to think of the daughter."

RESTLESS ACTOR: Although he is one of the busiest actors around, Ray Walston is not a man to take his work for granted.

"There is a lot that I don't like about my own work in films," Walston bluntly declares. "It is like learning to act all over again."

Walston came to Broadway in 1945, has been pretty steadily occupied in 12 productions since. This season has been the peak.

After completing his first film "Kiss Them For Me," Walston repeated his long stage stint for the screen version of "South Pacific."

Immediately after he returned to Broadway for star assignment in "Who Was That Lady I Saw You With?" Now he has taken time out from that to appear in the movie "Damn Yankees." In it he will again be repeating a Broadway role.

Rural Highway Traffic Volume Shows Increase

Traffic volumes on Missouri state highways outside urban areas showed a net increase of 1½ per cent during the calendar year of 1957 over that for 1956, according to statistics compiled by the Missouri State Highway Department's Division of Highway Planning. The report also indicates that traffic increased 13.3 per cent for the four-year period 1954 through 1957 and 58.4 per cent since 1941.

Statistics indicating the 1½ per cent increase in traffic in 1957 over 1956 are based on traffic figures as obtained from 105 traffic recorders stationed at strategic points throughout the state. These recorders are placed on all types of highways in the state system and have been so located as to provide a pattern of traffic for the state as a whole.

The 13.3 per cent traffic increase noted in the past four years is determined from traffic volume records collected during the period.

The 58.4 per cent increase in the period from 1941 through 1957 is determined from records kept on 27 automatic recorders which have been in operation throughout the state during that entire period.
